

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

TEN PAGES.

VOL. XXVI.

ATLANTA, GA., THURSDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 23, 1893.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

GRESHAM IS ANGRY.

All This Hubbub Worries Mr. Cleveland's Prime Minister.

RUMOR EVEN SAYS HE MAY RESIGN

But This Is Queered by a Report About Another Secretary.

PUBLIC OPINION SAVES THURSTON

He Does Not Believe Dole Will Lay Down on Mr. Willis' Call—A Ship Is Due Today.

Washington, November 22.—(Special.)—Minister Thurston's reply to Colonel Blount's report is regarded here as a convincing answer to the latter's assertions and conclusions touching the Hawaiian revolution and the provisional government. He squarely traverses the case as presented by Colonel Blount and adopted by Secretary Gresham. The latter is very wrathful at Thurston and would give him his passport but for the fear that such a course would injure the administration. Thurston would undoubtedly like to be put in a position to pose as a martyr. He will hardly be gratified.

There is a report out tonight that Gresham is disgusted and will resign if his Hawaiian policy goes amiss. So, too, the rumor is revived that Secretary Smith will resign on account of his pension policy.

Gratification is felt that both sides of the Hawaiian affair is before the public. It is thought that if the Alameda tomorrow, does not bring information of the restoration of the monarchy, Willis will be instructed to let the matter alone until congress has acted.

NEWS EXPECTED TODAY.

A Ship Is Due to Arrive and She Should Bring Some Tidings.

Washington, November 22.—As said in the Associated Press dispatch last night, the officers of the state department fully believe that by this time the Queen Liliuokalani has been restored to her throne. It seems, however, that actual force may not have been authorized, although there was to be such a show of force as would make the provisional government believe that the United States would use all the power at its command to bring about the restoration.

The statement was also made that if Mr. Dole refused to accede to the demands of Minister Willis he would be thrust aside and the queen restored, even if the administration should have to go to congress for authority. At the same time it was claimed that there would be no necessity for any such action, as the information from the islands was to the effect that everything was working precisely as expected. One reason for the belief in some quarters that the restoration took place yesterday was the assertion often made that unless the restoration took place before the arrival of the first steamer from the United States since the attitude of this administration had been made public, that it would not be made at all, because the sentiment of the United States and the report of Minister Thurston to the provisional government would have a tendency to sustain it and cause it to resist Minister Willis's efforts at restoration.

The Ship Is There for a Bluff.

This phase of the case was suggested to the department today and a reply was received that it made no difference whether Mr. Thurston had been able to communicate with the provisional government or not, or whether that government would offer any resistance the restoration would be made on the same day. It was claimed that not only the information furnished by Mr. Blount, but the reports received since Minister Willis arrived at Honolulu were to the effect that the provisional government was sustained on the proposition that the United States man-of-war was in the harbor for the purpose. It is presumed that as soon as it was known that the United States would not sustain the provisional government, but was determined to undo what had been done by the revolutionists that the public immediately compelled the restoration of the queen. It is supposed, too, that the members of the revolutionists hastened to take advantage of the amnesty which Minister Willis would insist that the queen should grant upon being restored to power.

The Wish Is Father to the Thought.

The Alameda is expected to arrive tomorrow morning. At the department there is not much expectation of any important news being received by her, although such a thing is hardly possible. Yet it is the general impression that nothing transpired between the time when the Australian sailed and the departure of the Alameda. It was not impossible at the time the Alameda sailed for information to have reached the islands of what had been determined on by the United States government. The basis of the belief that the queen was restored yesterday is supposed to be the dispatch which was received by the Australia from Minister Willis. It is said that this report showed Minister Willis's confident expectation that there would be no interruption.

It is asserted that the progress reported by Minister Willis has been so satisfactory that it has not been considered necessary to send him anything further since he received his original instructions.

Avald to Fire Thurston.

Officials in the state department assert that the statement issued by Minister Thurston this morning would furnish abundant ground for giving him his passport if this government felt inclined to send him to him. In the present state of the public mind, however, it is thought that this might seem like depriving a man of the right to state his side of the case and would prove unpopular.

Thurston Resents the Reflections.

Mr. Thurston, the Hawaiian minister, said this morning that he had not received his passport from the United States government. He had no reason to expect that any such course was probable. There is no diplomatic propriety, he said, in a foreign minister making a personal statement in his defense when he is personally assailed. Thurston considered that he and the members of the provisional government, as individuals, had been personally assailed and their veracity impugned. The Hawaiian public will probably receive its first news of the Gresham letter tomorrow, when the Monowai is to arrive at Honolulu.

IRON ON THE FREE LIST.

The New Tariff Bill Under Consideration Would Will Also Be Admitted Free.

Washington, November 22.—The iron ore men have been defeated and the men who have combated so violently to keep this article off the free list were today informally notified by members of the ways and means committee that it had been finally decided by the democratic members that iron ore would be placed on the free list.

This is the most important development of the day, as it leaves the iron men of Alabama, Virginia and Michigan no alternative but to carry their fight to the floor of the house. They are threatening to do, but it is more likely stated than ever that the new tariff bill containing this new provision will be opposed in the house by the solid democratic delegation from Alabama and in the senate by Senators Morgan and Pugh. The Western Iron Ore Association, through President George H. Fly, of Ohio, has made a vigorous protest to the committee. The western iron ore men in their communication gave a history of the development of the Lake Superior iron ore industry, and make an appeal for the restoration of the present duty, not only in the interest, but in the interest of the consumer and the laboring man. The letter concludes thus:

"If, for awhile ahead, iron ore should be any cheaper than it has been for the last two years, it can come through materially lower wages, not only in mining but on the docks, on the vessels and on the railroads that give it transit to mills and furnaces and along the line of interdependent industries."

"In Lake Superior ores alone $182,000,000 are now invested, with all the labor occupation involved."

"Iron ore is a product of labor and capital. To discriminate against it because theorists designate it as a raw material, would be an obvious injustice. If finished products above iron ore are made dutiable, there can be no valid reason for a different treatment of this product."

And Wool, Too.

The committee today concluded the wool schedule of the new tariff bill. The measure provides for the admission free of duty of all wools and hair of all kinds, goat, alpaca and other like animals, and of wool and hair on the skin, top waste and other wastes and rags composed wholly or in part of wool, and also repeals what are known as compensatory duties on woolen goods and reduces the ad valorem duties on such goods. It also repeals the compensatory duties upon carpets of all kinds, rugs and mats and reduces the ad valorem duties thereon from 40 per cent ad valorem to 30 per cent ad valorem. It also reduces the duties upon certain qualities of waste, which have been advanced beyond the condition of second wool by the use of machinery or by the application of labor to 25 per cent ad valorem. The duty on shoddy, mungo and certain other wastes is put at 25 per cent ad valorem.

Want the Whisky Tax Raised.

Over 1,000 petitions, telegrams and memorials have been received by members of the committee from temperance societies throughout the country asking that the whisky tax be raised.

A telegram from Iowa says: "We have tried state prohibition and found that we cannot cope with the evil. Prohibition does not always prohibit, but if the general government places a heavy tax on the product it will tend to lessen the output of the accused stuff."

A young man of the Christian Association of Chicago says: "We, as members of the Young Men's Christian Association, of Chicago, earnestly request the honorable members of the said committee that they use their best endeavors to place a tax, at least $1.50 per gallon on whisky, thereby helping to check the spread of intoxication and lessen the evils of drunkenness."

Mrs. Harriet Lane, of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, of Wheeling, Ill., writes: "Whisky is the most damnable curse of this generation. We have had one small distillery here and you may be sure we do not want another. The drunkenness even in a little country town was something horrible. The way those men acted when drunk was simply awful and enough to frighten one into hysterics with their horrible yelling and screaming. They made the night hideous with their songs, the blasphemous wretches, and a decent woman hardly dared step on the streets for them. We want the committee, or members, who ever they are, to take the matter and put a good high tariff on stuff and we do not want another distillery here. We hope you will tax it to the fullest extent."

These are samples of the telegrams being received. In the meantime the distillers are singularly silent on the subject.

J. W. Ringlander, S. Goldenberg and others of New York today appeared and urged the passage of a measure to prevent representatives of foreign houses from coming to America and taking orders for foreign goods. They want a license imposed upon such agents, who shall be termed peddlers. They also urged and received assurance that a provision should be inserted in the new tariff bill providing that the value of the outside crates, cases, boxes, sacks and coverings in which merchandise is packed for shipment to the United States shall not be included in the dutiable value of the merchandise contained in the same, but shall thereafter be free from duty.

Must Not Forestall the Message.

It was stated at the war department this afternoon after Secretary Lamont had returned from the white house, that none of the reports from the cabinet officers would be given out or made public until after congress had met and the message of the president sent in.

The reason for this, it is believed, is that much contained in the message would be foreshadowed in the reports of members of the cabinet, as has been the case, where assistants to heads of departments and bureau officers have made reports which embody much that must naturally appear in the president's message.

A synopsis of the report of Secretary Smith is given in an evening paper here which is made up almost entirely of reports made by bureau chiefs in Secretary Smith's cabinet. The secretary has been compelled to lay aside work upon his report for a few days on account of the sickness of his son, Marion. The secretary says that his report is not yet complete and the alleged report was an unjustifiable publication.

TRAINS RUN AGAIN.

The Lehigh Road Is Getting All the Engineers It Needs.

MANY ARE OLD BURLINGTON MEN

They Could Not Get Work in the West and Will Not Starve.

STRIKERS ASK THEM TO RETURN

An Offer Is Made to One Party of Men to Go Away and Is Refused—The Trouble Is Not Over.

Buffalo, N. Y., November 22.—At half past 1 o'clock this afternoon a special train of three coaches, drawn by passenger engine No. 12, was started out of the William street yard, for Sayre, Pa. A new engineer, who had come here from the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy road, was at the throttle, and forty-eight engineers occupied the seats of the coaches. Trainmaster Van Allen and Traveling Engineer Mooney were on hand to start them on the journey. The train pulled out of the yard quietly and a person not acquainted with the situation would have observed nothing unusual about its passengers. It is now stated that the seventy-seven men who went out on the regular train this morning were all experienced engineers. Thus, it will be seen that 125 engineers have gone east today.

An old employee was put in the cab with the new Chicago, Burlington and Quincy man to pull them over the road, and an old employee also acted as conductor. It is stated, and some of the new men confirm the story, that the exodus from the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy has been in the nature of crews, rather than individuals.

In many instances, conductors, engineers, firemen and three brakemen, making up a regular freight crew on the big western road, started for Buffalo in a party, and made application to be put to work on a train on the Lehigh. They seem to be sober, steady men, accustomed to working together and so far as consistent, it is said, the Lehigh Valley people will comply with their request.

What the Men Say.

One of the new men made the following statement to a reporter before the train pulled out:

"Most of us are men who went out on the great Chicago, Burlington and Quincy strike. Men from the eastern roads, who claim to be brotherhood men and some of them from the Lehigh, came west and took our places. The company gave them the preference over such of us as they took back. When the strike was finally settled, the new men were given all the regular runs and we had to go on the rounds—first in, first out. The company had about twice as many men as they could use when times were good. The business has been very dull this fall and we were lucky if we got in a week's work in a month. Many of us did not get in four days a month; we could not make a living. Just as soon as I heard of the strike I started for Buffalo. I guess that's the same story that all of our Chicago, Burlington and Quincy boys would tell you."

They Want Work and Are Going to Have It

It is stated that a party of Chicago, Burlington and Quincy men, who arrived at the city this morning, were taken to the United States hotel by a committee of the strikers and offered $500 if they would return home.

The reply was: "We have come here to get work and we will not go home. We are going to make a living and if it is scabbing, we'll make the most of it."

THE LEHIGH VALLEY STRIKE.

The Officials Say That All the Regular Freight Trains Will Be Running by Today.

Jersey City, N. J., November 22.—The skies are apparently clearing so far as the freight end of the Lehigh Valley strike is concerned.

A representative of the Associated Press dropped in on Yardmaster Lamb, who was engaged in close communication with a band of newly recruited men. Mr. Lamb, in answer to the query as to what progress was being made in the direction of moving freight, said:

"We are waiting for an engine now to take out a train of nineteen loaded cars, already made up, with freight consigned to all points on the line of the road. Then we will move more trains, and by tomorrow all the regular freight trains will be running. That is all I can say on the subject. Notice has been given as to what the president is willing to do and those who have not complied with the terms of the notice are no longer considered servants of the company. We have engaged new men who will take out our trains. I cannot answer for what the men on strike may do about this. The New Jersey Central has got to accept our freight."

The officials of the Lehigh Valley have taken a firm stand in the matter and will test the question whether their traffic can be blocked any longer. At any rate the ball will soon be moving and the matter decided. No trouble is anticipated when the train is started at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

The probabilities are, however, that the Jersey City employees will strenuously object to Lehigh Valley freight going over their tracks, and this may result in them going on a strike. A squad of police is on hand in the freight yard to maintain order, and in case of any demonstration on the part of the striking employees, it will be promptly snuffed.

Superintendent Donnelly, of the eastern district, came into Communipaw station on the engine that brought in a train at 4:10 o'clock. Several reporters besieged him with questions, and in answer to the queries, he said:

"The situation along the line of the Lehigh has considerably improved. We are receiving more applicants for employment than we can entertain. In our New York office alone we receive twenty applications daily from men skilled in the various lines of our business."

"Is it true," he was asked, "that fifty engineers from the Philadelphia and Reading road have been engaged?"

"I do not know the exact number," he replied, "but we have engaged quite a number of them. I came in on the engine of this train in order to pilot the engineer, but before we had gotten half way, I found out that he was not coming and went about the road than I did. The same engineer is to take out the freight train this evening. As to the strikers, I think we have them on the run."

"Would you say," he was asked, "that the strike is over, so far as the Lehigh Valley railroad is concerned?"

"I would not," was his reply.

The Fire Was Drawn.

Auburn, N. Y., November 22.—The first train to leave or arrive at Auburn station on the Lehigh for forty-eight hours, was made up under the protection of a large posse of deputies and a squad of policemen at 3:37 o'clock this afternoon. Their intention to make the attempt became known early this morning, and when the time for the start to be made came, there was a large crowd in the yards. The first engine brought out of the roundhouse was soon surrounded by a mob of jeering friends of the strikers, and in the confusion, the fire was drawn from the firebox by some unknown person.

The Strikers Issue a Bulletin.

Rochester, N. Y., November 23.—At 12:30 o'clock this morning the local board of strikers issued the following bulletin exclusively to the Associated Press:

"Every operator between Rochester and Buffalo, except five who are under bond, and one non-union man at Rochester, all order men, are out on the whole territory covered by the road. Non-union men who have been imported to take the strikers' places have been won over to our side and are now out. The whole territory is completely tied up. Not a wheel is being turned at this hour. The Rochester division is completely tied up. The conductors went out at 11 o'clock p. m."

Representatives of five brotherhoods from Philadelphia, Buffalo, Batavia, Sayre and Elton, are attending the conference, which will last all night. A member of the board said to the Associated Press representative: "If necessary the men on the other roads will be called out promptly, beginning with the Central, the others to follow. Everything tonight is in our favor."

There Will Be No Strike.

Pittsburg, November 22.—The threatened strike in the sheet mill industry has been averted and a settlement effected by which thirty days' pay was given to the men, who were employed over 17,000 men, who were confined in operation during the winter. The settlement was effected by the strikers taking the wage reduction intended for the roughers and catchers.

AUGUSTA HAS A MAMMOTH SHOW.

All Who Missed the World's Fair Should Take This In.

Augusta, Ga., November 22.—(Special.)—I have visited the Augusta exposition and Georgia state fair and, without doubt, it is the most mammoth and magnificent enterprise the south has ever undertaken. Augusta has surpassed even her own idea of greatness. It excels in the superlative degree the thoughts of all who have read about it. The exposition is worthy of the inspection of every true Georgian. At Atlanta and Savannah a fair has been held for Thanksgiving Day, November 3rd. The people of both cities and of every town in the state should show their appreciation by coming to Augusta en masse. All Atlanta should combine in working up a great crowd to visit Augusta's grand show, which I pronounce with delight and sincerity the grandest show ever held in Georgia. Every citizen of the state should see it.

CLARK HOWELL.

THE REVOLUTION IN BRAZIL.

Rio de Janeiro Under Fire and the Movement Spreading.

London, November 22.—(Copyrighted 1893 by the Associated Press.)—The Times tomorrow, November 23d, will publish the following dispatch from Rio de Janeiro, dated November 18th, via Montevideo, November 22d:

A heavy artillery fire continues daily. Forts Villaça and Lage have been greatly battered. A heavy gun at Fort San Joao was struck by a rebel shot and dismounted. During the bombardment of Saturday, a shell hit a Fort Lage, killing an officer and seven men.

Parts of the city are perilous, owing to the fusillade of rifles and machine guns; there have been many casualties in the streets.

The foreign diplomats consider it impossible to take further steps for the protection of life and property, and the naval commanders concur in the general opinion, which favors letting both sides proceed without further interference. Admiral de Mello is inclined to bombard the city after forty-eight hours' notice.

Admiral Gama, who recently joined the insurgents, confirms the telegram of last week saying that de Mello is disposed to wait the end of the revolution, and then take a plebiscite of the country on the question of monarchy.

The insurgents are confident of success. They have captured Bage, in the province of Rio Grande do Sul, and are making progress northward.

President Píxoto is preparing for a stubborn defense of Rio de Janeiro, and states that he intends fighting to the last and when his ships arrive, he expects victory.

All business is suffering severely, and every branch is stagnated. The financial position of the government is serious, the treasury is exhausted, and the fact that Pernambuco has been declared in a state of siege, shows the spread of the movement.

IT IS EPIDEMIC.

Smallpox Refruges from Saltville Are Under Strict Quarantine.

Bristol, Tenn., November 22.—(Special.) Mayor W. A. Roder, of Bristol, Va., has instructed the police to keep the six smallpox refugees at their homes till the council can take some action.

These refugees are now said to be seven cases of smallpox, though some say it is black measles. The Constitution's correspondent has been informed that Mrs. Sasher, who was buried here two weeks ago, died of smallpox at Saltville. News comes here from Pulaski and Clark Summit that there are still several cases at each of these places, though no deaths have occurred. A special from Saltville says that excitement runs high, and that it is feared the disease will yet be spread all over that part of the country. The Saltville informant thinks it could have been stamped out long ago if the physicians had not been so slow in pronouncing it smallpox.

A Big Coal Company.

Cincinnati, November 22.—Within ten days one of the strongest coal and lumber companies in the United States will be formed here and $2,000,000 will be expended. The promoters of the scheme are W. M. Greene, manager of the Cincinnati and Dayton railway; C. Morris, of Cincinnati, and J. W. Edwards, the Chicago coal baron. The coal and lumber lands are 25,000 acres in extent and are located on the Gauley river, in West Virginia.

GAVE HIMSELF UP.

John Johnston Wants to Come Back to Georgia For Trial.

HE SHOT JIM WALL FOUR YEARS AGO

Last Night He Confessed the Killing to the Galveston Police.

KNOWN AS JOHN COMER IN TEXAS

He Has Been Railroaded in Mexico and Has Lost a Leg—He Is Ready to Return Home.

Galveston, Tex., November 22.—(Special.) John R. Johnston, alias John Comer, who walked into the headquarters of the chief of police yesterday seeking protection from parties, who, he claimed, were trying to "gong" him, made a full confession this evening of having killed Jim Wall at a country dance, four miles south of Dawson, Ga., in 1889. The killing occurred at a country ball, which Johnston attended with a young lady. While she was dancing she was rudely tripped up and thrown to the floor by a younger brother of Jim Wall. Johnston resented the indignity to the young lady and was invited out by young Wall, who said he would give him any satisfaction he desired. When they got into the yard, friends surrounded them and the matter was amicably adjusted.

Shortly after this Jim Wall appeared at the dance and his brother told him what had happened. Jim said Johnston would have to retract or he would kill him, and at once went in search of Johnston, whom he met coming in the gate with a party of friends. Jim Wall approached Johnston in a threatening manner and demanded an apology for the affront he had placed upon his brother. Johnston replied that the matter had been amicably settled and that no apology was necessary. Jim said he would have to apologize or he would kill him. Johnston refused. Jim Wall threw his hand down on his revolver in his hip pocket. As he was in the act of drawing the weapon Johnston whipped out his revolver and shot Jim through the heart, killing him instantly.

Several Saw the Shooting.

Johnston says the killing was witnessed by about fifteen people, among whom was a deputy sheriff, who made no attempt to arrest him. He remained in the immediate neighborhood for six weeks and no effort was made to arrest him. He then left and went to New York, where he stayed two months. Then he came to Texas and has spent the last five years principally in roaming in Mexico and Texas, under the name of John Comer, a name given him by his elder brothers when he was a child. While breaking on the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe last January he met with an accident which cost him his left leg and part of his right foot. He has just been released from the hospital. He is twenty-six years old and expresses a keen desire to return to Georgia, stand his trial and be released of the burden that has made the past five years of his life miserable. He is now being held awaiting the arrival of the sheriff from Dawson, who has wired that he will come for him.

ROANOKE RIOTERS SENTENCED.

The Leader of the Mob Gets Thirty Days in Jail and a $100 Fine.

Roanoke, Va., November 22.—Three of the persons under indictment for participating in the riot of September 20th were found guilty in the hustings court today, but almost the minimum penalty was imposed. James G. Richardson was proven to have been one of the foremost leaders of the mob which surrounded the jail where the negro was confined and attempted to break into it, when they were fired upon by the militia, was sentenced to thirty days in jail and to pay a fine of $100.

D. Kennedy and S. W. Fuqua, who were also identified as having been active participants and made incendiary talk, were sentenced to one year's imprisonment in the city jail and $1 fine. Al Perry, who was also under indictment, charged with a misdemeanor, and the only one who has not been represented by a lawyer in the trial, was acquitted. The trial of Chief of Police J. F. Terry, Sergeant H. H. Griffin under indictment as accessories before the fact to the hanging of the negro, was begun today and the decision upon a motion to quash the indictment on account of technicality, will be rendered tomorrow. A motion to set aside the verdict of the jury in the cases of Richardson, Kennedy and Fuqua has been made and will come up for argument Monday.

POLICE UNDER ARREST.

They Were Mixed Up in the Killing of Will Smith.

Knoxville, Tenn., November 22.—(Special.) A sensation was created here today by the arrest of Chief Atkins, Lieutenant Hood and Sergeant Hicks, of the local police department. They were charged with being accessories to the killing of Will Smith, the young man who acted as a decoy for the officers in the Knoxville and Ohio express robbery case. Smith was shot presumably by Barney Quinn, the officer who accompanied Quinn on the expedition to capture young Gerding, the instigator of the robbery. They took part in the desperate fight in the express car.

The warrant was sworn out by Smith's father. The men were arraigned before a justice of the peace this afternoon and asked for a continuance. They were placed under a $5,000 bond each to appear in court on December 1st.

They May Have Succeeded in Lynching Him.

Frankfort, Ky., November 22.—Albert Berry, who has been confined in the penitentiary for the murder of a woman, mysteriously disappeared and his either escaped or is hiding about the prison. Berry killed a peddler in Rock Castle county about two months ago and was brought here for safe keeping. Several attempts were made to lynch him on the route here.

Cochran Made No Defense.

Philadelphia, November 22.—The trial of Henry S. Cochran, late chief weigher of the Philadelphia mint, took place today before Judge Butler and a jury in the United States district court. Cochran's counsel, made no defense, and a verdict of guilty was rendered by the jury, without leaving the box.

Suing the "Squire's" Estate for $5,000.

London, November 22.—The Morning Chronicle says that a well-known follower of the turf has begun suit against the estate of Squire Abingdon Baird for $5,000, bringing the balance unpaid of a consideration of $125,000, which it is alleged, Baird promised to pay for a year. Baird, who was a well-known figure in the turf world, died recently of the amount of $250,000, said to have been paid by him to a lady with whom he had had relations. Baird is alleged to have been the criminal assassin of the lady, but the

PRICE FIVE CENTS

The American Casualty Apply for a Receiver. Heavy Losses in the Railroad Department.

AN INSURANCE FIRM IN TROUBLE.

New York, November 22.—Superintendent Pierce, of the insurance department, took possession this afternoon of the American Casualty Insurance Company. He did not arrive, however, until the company's officers had themselves determined to apply for a receiver.

A meeting of the committee, which has been investigating the affairs of the company, was held this afternoon to discuss the advisability of continuing business or going into liquidation. It has been capitalized at $1,000,000, and a short time ago William E. Midgley retired from the presidency after the company had sustained heavy losses and reorganization had been determined on.

Dr. Henry L. Slocum was made president, and after an examination of the books, it appeared that a reorganization would be a difficult task to accomplish. According to the statement of the expert accountant, Beecher, Schenck & Co., loaned $400,000 of the company's money, and of this amount, $300,000 was to three members of the firm in different loans.

WATCHING THE ANARCHISTS.

Police Bait Their Haunts and Put Several Under Arrest.

Paris, November 22.—The police of St. Etienne have raised a number of haunts for French and foreign anarchists, who are supposed to be hiding, and have seized an anarchist manifesto, which is said to have been distributed in many parts of France and possibly mailed to foreign countries, deterring the dynamite outrages at Barcelona and Marseille and predicting that other and similar outrages would soon be perpetrated in France. Several arrests have also been made and the police throughout the republic are taking every precaution to prevent injury to public buildings.

Acting upon instructions received from the government the police are compiling a record of all persons suspected of being in any way connected with anarchist societies, and they will, for some time to come, be kept under the strictest surveillance.

TO LET WOMEN VOTE IF THEY PAY TAXES.

A Bill Introduced in the House of Commons to Give Them That Right.

London, November 22.—The discussion of the parish councils' bills in the house of commons yesterday evening has attracted much attention. Mr. Henry Fowler, president of the local government board, announced the introduction of a new clause, permitting all woman who pay taxes to vote at all local elections. The discussion which followed revealed a curious conflict of opinion as to the extent of Mr. Fowler's concession and Mr. Chamberlain's threatened opposition to such widening of the scope of the bill, which is being fought on a nail by the Tories in spite of Mr. Baillon's well-known leaning towards woman's suffrage. In some quarters, Mr. Fowler's proposal is regarded as a dangerous step toward giving women parliamentary franchise.

CORBETT IS COMING SOON.

Florida's Governor May Treat Him for That Aggravated Case of Self-Esteem.

Jacksonville, Fla., November 22.—(Special.)—A letter was received from Brady Corbett's manager, today, saying that Corbett would be here December 12th. All of his trainers will be along with him, making a party of six. Billy Delaney, his chief trainer, arrived today. Delaney will make arrangements for a training ground. The place for training has not yet been definitely decided upon. In fact, it is left open to be secured by the town that will offer the most inducements to get the attraction.

Harry Mason received a cable message last night from the Chadbury West End Club, of London, requesting him to reserve 100 seats near the arena for the contest. Requests for reservations of seats have been received from Maine to California and down to Key West. A big contingent of the sporting element is expected from San Francisco. A telegram from there today asks if 500 seats can be secured.

Pays Taxes Voluntarily.

Raleigh, N. C., November 22.—(Special.)—The new board of directors of the North Carolina railway recently adopted a resolution surrendering its exemption from taxation. A second resolution was adopted referring the matter to the private stockholders. A meeting of the latter was called, but many of the stockholders did not attend, so that there was no meeting. This state owns half the stock of the road. Last night the directors held another meeting and rescinded the resolution referring the matter to the stockholders and reaffirmed their action surrendering exemption. All railway property in the state now pays taxes.

HOT WITHOUT FIRES.

In Columbus the Municipal Campaign Has Warmed Things Up.

TWO CANDIDATES ARE NECK AND NECK.

There May Be an Independent in the Race for Mayor if Slade Is Renominated. Taking Police Out of Politics.

Columbus, Ga., November 22.—(Special.)—Columbus is in the midst of a very hot municipal campaign.

The race for mayor has reached a fever heat and Saturday's election promises to be the most interesting that this city has ever experienced. There are only two candidates for the office.

Captain Jerry J. Slade, the present mayor, and ex-Alderman J. B. Tarver are the candidates. Both, and the friends of both, are confident of winning.

Being made on Captain Slade by the friends of ex-Alderman Tarver on the score that he and his chief of police, Captain J. H. Beard, are a little too careless of the law which prohibits gambling.

The admissible election does not come off until the second Saturday in December. There will be no primary election, as the election of 100 men was agreed upon. This election, too, is going to be lively.

There is considerable dissatisfaction over some of the members of the one hundred, and in four of the wards independent candidates have announced.

Three of these independent candidates are members of the present council.

Glad of the Probable Change.

The people of Columbus are very happy that the selection of the members of the police force is to be taken out of politics, and placed in the hands of a board of commissioners. The bill to establish a police commission for Columbus is now in the senate.

It is a very bad scheme to have a police force mixed in politics, as has been proven here.

Cases on the Court Docket.

Murphy's superior court is now in session with Judge Pitt presiding. A case which will be tried at this term of court and which will attract much interest is the state vs. Dan Jones for murder.

Who is a negro, almost without any provocation whatever, beat to death his little nephew. He was immediately arrested and placed in jail.

The J. E. Garlington rape case has been continued until January.

HE IS A DOUBLE MURDERER.

Carolina Can Hang Him and Georgia May If He Stays Here.

Macon, Ga., November 22.—(Special.)—Will Crawford, a negro, who is in jail here, is under sentence of death for murder in South Carolina, and is wanted for a murder in Dodge county, Georgia. Tomorrow he will be turned over to the Dodge county authorities and be carried there and tried for his crime, provided Governor Nathan does not conclude to surrender him to the South Carolina authorities.

Crawford is a bad citizen and might as well be hung in South Carolina as Georgia, and save this state the distasteful job of execution.

THE CHURCHES.

A celebrated lawyer case, one of the richest ever tried before a court here, was concluded today in the superior court.

It was a case of equal division in a light-colored colored Primitive Baptist church. The issue was that term the two-sided doctrine, which is, that Christ and the devil are co-equal and co-eternal and that the Lord sowed both the tares and the grain.

The dissenting contingent from the church withdrew from the church, and its followers and went into business independently and attempted to take the church from the two-sided doctrine.

ONE THOUSAND CASES OF FEVER.

That Is the Record in Brunswick for the Season—One Case Reported Yesterday.

Brunswick, Ga., November 22.—(Special.)—One case of yellow fever was reported today, Mary Lancaster, white. Six patients were discharged, four of which were whites, Mrs. T. B. Ferguson, Victoria Akridge, Benjamin Akridge and Hugh Flanders, and two colored, Frank Carter and Ellen Altwater. The weather is cloudy, with westerly winds.

Monetary, at 7 o'clock, p. m. registered 64.12 degrees. Twenty-nine patients are under treatment, whites, nine; colored, 20. Mortality, 5.7. Today's report brought the total of yellow fever cases to an even thousand.

The commissioner issued 1,036 rations yesterday. W. P. Simmons, in charge of the St. Simon's branch of the commissary, was recalled today and the issuing of rations at that point will be discontinued.

BIRMINGHAM GOSSIP.

The Musical People Are Getting Up an Entertainment.

Birmingham, Ala., November 22.—(Special.)—The "Mikado" will be produced on the evening of November 23d by Birmingham's four hundred, and it promises to be a meritorious entertainment. Misses Ethel Houston, Ruth Evans, Mamie Morrow and Margaret O'Brien, Messrs. Harri Cobb, Hugh McKnight and Harry Kirk have the leading characters. They are all good performers. Miss Houston delighted the people of Columbus, Ga., last summer in the role of Katisha, she having sung the part in private theatricals arranged by the musical talent of that city.

She is extra good.

All of the young lawyers of this city of not exceeding five years' standing, have organized a college of young lawyers. They meet each Wednesday evening and enjoy a lecture on law by one of their number. Richard H. Evans is president of the college.

Frank V. Evans, who has been city clerk of Birmingham for ten years, has notified his friends that he will not stand for re-election at the meeting of the board next month.

MILLIS-RAOUL.

A Brilliant Home Wedding That Occurred Last Night.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF SOCIETY

The Orpheus Glee Club Concert Tonight. The Library Reception—Notes and News of the Social World.

The wedding which united Captain John Mills, United States army, and Miss Mary Raoul, last evening, was one of unusual beauty and elegance.

The marriage ceremony was performed with eloquent solemnity by Bishop Nelson at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Raoul. The mansion is one of the most beautiful on Peachtree, and is particularly adapted to entertaining. Its arrangement and furnishings disclosed an excellent taste for luxury and rich color tones and with the entire interior brilliantly illuminated and thrown open to guests the scene was one of luxurious and poetic beauty.

Superb palms were used in the decorations, and the flowers for the occasion were roses and chrysanthemums. The fire place in the hallway was banked about with palms and the handsome carved stairway was trimmed with holy and woodland vines. The library with its Mexican decorations and furnishings, was enriched in beauty and grace by many forms and chrysanthemums banked about the bookcases.

The supper room, where the bride's table was placed, was decorated entirely in bride roses. The table was arranged in graceful and lavish fashion upon marble and bric-a-brac, and which was most dainty in its design, silver and cut glass, had as its center piece a lovely arrangement of bride roses and maiden hair ferns. Many candelabra, with white tapers, were among the adornments of this fair bridal bower. A number of smaller tables were placed about the room, so that the bride might have all her young friends around her.

The wedding occurred in the grand drawing room. Here superb white chrysanthemums were used in the decorations, and the bride wore a beautiful gown of white satin, with a beautiful bank of palms, placed behind the handsome stained glass window, formed a background for the bride in his white vestments, and the couple knelt before him to receive his blessing upon a satin cushion embroidered in orange and blue.

The bride was a vision of modest and dignified loveliness in her stately and simple gown of elegant ivory-white satin, trimmed with delicate lace and orange blossoms.

She wore a large bouquet of bride roses. Her maid of honor, Miss Rebecca Raoul, was pretty and picturesque in a gown of soft white crinkled crepe, made in simple artistic fashion. She carried Catherine Mermont.

The best man was Mr. Wade Mills, of Michigan, brother of the groom.

There were present from a distance a number of prominent people, among them Mr. and Mrs. George Dole Wadley, of Macon; Mr. and Mrs. William Rogers, of Savannah; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rogers, of Atlanta; and a number of the young officers of the Third Artillery and others from the army. Mrs. Raoul received her guests in a very handsome and becoming toilet of sea foam green moire trimmed with jet and diamonds. Her ornaments were superb diamonds.

After the ceremony an elegant and elaborate supper was served to the guests who numbered about seventy-five of the most prominent society folks. The dancing was enjoyed by the guests until late in the evening.

The presents, which were many and elaborate, were arranged in the billiard room on the second floor. Miss Raoul is the eldest daughter of Colonel W. G. Raoul, of the Georgia National Guard. She has every grace that goes to the making of a perfect woman. She inherits from both her parents the utmost refinement and intellect and ample means have made it possible for her to develop to the highest social scale.

After the ceremony an elegant and elaborate supper was served to the guests who numbered about seventy-five of the most prominent society folks. The dancing was enjoyed by the guests until late in the evening.

THE TRIAL OF THE CHANDLERS.

Witnesses Contradict Each Other—The Principals Gave Straw Bond.

Opelika, Ala., November 22.—(Special.)—The Chandler murder case that is in progress in the circuit court is a terribly mixed affair, and able attorneys on both sides are fighting manfully to secure a point. Witness after witness testifies, and in almost every case their testimony is materially different. Jim and Charlie Chandler are charged with murdering Henry Howard and during the trial Judge Carmichael made the startling discovery that these men had been free to roam where they pleased. The bond they were released on was not collectable, owing to a legal technicality. The announcement created a sensation. The trial will hardly be concluded this week.

Another Broken Rail.

Opelika, Ala., November 22.—(Special.)—Another wreck was narrowly averted on the Alabama branch of the Central railroad yesterday afternoon.

Another broken rail was discovered by a Lafayette policeman just beyond that town and within a few hundred yards of where the wreck of last Tuesday occurred. The passenger train was stopped, and the passengers were taken to safety. The broken rail was removed, and the train was allowed to proceed.

THROUGH GEORGIA.

Rev. W. A. Mcintosh and Professor E. C. Koch were fined $50 each and costs by Mayor Smith, of Gainesville, for working on Sunday. They were fined for working on Sunday. They were fined for working on Sunday.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Macon, Ga., November 22.—(Special.)—Mrs. Rogers, mother of Mr. Julian Rogers, a leading and wealthy citizen of Macon, for many years in the newspaper business here, died today. She was a noble and Christian lady with hundreds of warm friends in different parts of the state.

Greenwood S. C., November 22.—(Special.)—Rev. Daniel M. Beattie, pastor of the Presbyterian church here, died this morning in his forty-second year, leaving a wife and seven children. He came here from Canada. Dr. J. L. Girardeau, of Columbia, preached the funeral sermon and the remains will be taken to Canada.

Montgomery, Ala., November 22.—(Special.)—S. D. Hubbard, assistant manager of the Montgomery of works, one of the most popular young men in the city, dropped dead late this evening from heart disease.

TWO SMALL FIRES YESTERDAY.

The Department Had a Couple of Spirited Runs, but There Was Very Little Damage.

An alarm of fire was turned in yesterday morning from Box 22. The companies responding were No. 3 hose wagon, No. 4 hose wagon, No. 1 hook and ladder, No. 1 chemical, and No. 1 hose wagon. The fire was in the roof of a negro house in Hobo alley and was put out with but little trouble.

The second alarm came in during the afternoon from Box 61. No. 1 hose wagon, No. 4 hose wagon, No. 1 chemical and No. 1 hook and ladder answering the call. The fire was in a defective line at 229 Auburn street, where a house occupied by A. B. Brown.

The Meetings Will Continue.

The good work which has been going on at the Young Men's Christian Association will not cease with the departure of Colonel H. H. Hadley, but the meetings will continue. When it was put to the vote last night, the large number of men in the hall, which was crowded to its utmost capacity, was raised to signify their desire to have the meetings carried on for the present.

At the meeting, Rev. R. K. Bowman will speak at each meeting. It is the aim of the association to have the new converts and Christian workers to take an active part in these meetings and they are urged to present tonight at 8 o'clock.

MILLIS-RAOUL.

A Brilliant Home Wedding That Occurred Last Night.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF SOCIETY

The Orpheus Glee Club Concert Tonight. The Library Reception—Notes and News of the Social World.

The wedding which united Captain John Mills, United States army, and Miss Mary Raoul, last evening, was one of unusual beauty and elegance.

The marriage ceremony was performed with eloquent solemnity by Bishop Nelson at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Raoul. The mansion is one of the most beautiful on Peachtree, and is particularly adapted to entertaining. Its arrangement and furnishings disclosed an excellent taste for luxury and rich color tones and with the entire interior brilliantly illuminated and thrown open to guests the scene was one of luxurious and poetic beauty.

Superb palms were used in the decorations, and the flowers for the occasion were roses and chrysanthemums. The fire place in the hallway was banked about with palms and the handsome carved stairway was trimmed with holy and woodland vines. The library with its Mexican decorations and furnishings, was enriched in beauty and grace by many forms and chrysanthemums banked about the bookcases.

The supper room, where the bride's table was placed, was decorated entirely in bride roses. The table was arranged in graceful and lavish fashion upon marble and bric-a-brac, and which was most dainty in its design, silver and cut glass, had as its center piece a lovely arrangement of bride roses and maiden hair ferns. Many candelabra, with white tapers, were among the adornments of this fair bridal bower. A number of smaller tables were placed about the room, so that the bride might have all her young friends around her.

The wedding occurred in the grand drawing room. Here superb white chrysanthemums were used in the decorations, and the bride wore a beautiful gown of white satin, with a beautiful bank of palms, placed behind the handsome stained glass window, formed a background for the bride in his white vestments, and the couple knelt before him to receive his blessing upon a satin cushion embroidered in orange and blue.

The bride was a vision of modest and dignified loveliness in her stately and simple gown of elegant ivory-white satin, trimmed with delicate lace and orange blossoms.

She wore a large bouquet of bride roses. Her maid of honor, Miss Rebecca Raoul, was pretty and picturesque in a gown of soft white crinkled crepe, made in simple artistic fashion. She carried Catherine Mermont.

The best man was Mr. Wade Mills, of Michigan, brother of the groom.

There were present from a distance a number of prominent people, among them Mr. and Mrs. George Dole Wadley, of Macon; Mr. and Mrs. William Rogers, of Savannah; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rogers, of Atlanta; and a number of the young officers of the Third Artillery and others from the army. Mrs. Raoul received her guests in a very handsome and becoming toilet of sea foam green moire trimmed with jet and diamonds. Her ornaments were superb diamonds.

After the ceremony an elegant and elaborate supper was served to the guests who numbered about seventy-five of the most prominent society folks. The dancing was enjoyed by the guests until late in the evening.

The presents, which were many and elaborate, were arranged in the billiard room on the second floor. Miss Raoul is the eldest daughter of Colonel W. G. Raoul, of the Georgia National Guard. She has every grace that goes to the making of a perfect woman. She inherits from both her parents the utmost refinement and intellect and ample means have made it possible for her to develop to the highest social scale.

After the ceremony an elegant and elaborate supper was served to the guests who numbered about seventy-five of the most prominent society folks. The dancing was enjoyed by the guests until late in the evening.

THE TRIAL OF THE CHANDLERS.

Witnesses Contradict Each Other—The Principals Gave Straw Bond.

Opelika, Ala., November 22.—(Special.)—The Chandler murder case that is in progress in the circuit court is a terribly mixed affair, and able attorneys on both sides are fighting manfully to secure a point. Witness after witness testifies, and in almost every case their testimony is materially different. Jim and Charlie Chandler are charged with murdering Henry Howard and during the trial Judge Carmichael made the startling discovery that these men had been free to roam where they pleased. The bond they were released on was not collectable, owing to a legal technicality. The announcement created a sensation. The trial will hardly be concluded this week.

Another Broken Rail.

Opelika, Ala., November 22.—(Special.)—Another wreck was narrowly averted on the Alabama branch of the Central railroad yesterday afternoon.

Another broken rail was discovered by a Lafayette policeman just beyond that town and within a few hundred yards of where the wreck of last Tuesday occurred. The passenger train was stopped, and the passengers were taken to safety. The broken rail was removed, and the train was allowed to proceed.

THROUGH GEORGIA.

Rev. W. A. Mcintosh and Professor E. C. Koch were fined $50 each and costs by Mayor Smith, of Gainesville, for working on Sunday. They were fined for working on Sunday. They were fined for working on Sunday.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Macon, Ga., November 22.—(Special.)—Mrs. Rogers, mother of Mr. Julian Rogers, a leading and wealthy citizen of Macon, for many years in the newspaper business here, died today. She was a noble and Christian lady with hundreds of warm friends in different parts of the state.

Greenwood S. C., November 22.—(Special.)—Rev. Daniel M. Beattie, pastor of the Presbyterian church here, died this morning in his forty-second year, leaving a wife and seven children. He came here from Canada. Dr. J. L. Girardeau, of Columbia, preached the funeral sermon and the remains will be taken to Canada.

Montgomery, Ala., November 22.—(Special.)—S. D. Hubbard, assistant manager of the Montgomery of works, one of the most popular young men in the city, dropped dead late this evening from heart disease.

TWO SMALL FIRES YESTERDAY.

The Department Had a Couple of Spirited Runs, but There Was Very Little Damage.

An alarm of fire was turned in yesterday morning from Box 22. The companies responding were No. 3 hose wagon, No. 4 hose wagon, No. 1 hook and ladder, No. 1 chemical, and No. 1 hose wagon. The fire was in the roof of a negro house in Hobo alley and was put out with but little trouble.

The second alarm came in during the afternoon from Box 61. No. 1 hose wagon, No. 4 hose wagon, No. 1 chemical and No. 1 hook and ladder answering the call. The fire was in a defective line at 229 Auburn street, where a house occupied by A. B. Brown.

The Meetings Will Continue.

The good work which has been going on at the Young Men's Christian Association will not cease with the departure of Colonel H. H. Hadley, but the meetings will continue. When it was put to the vote last night, the large number of men in the hall, which was crowded to its utmost capacity, was raised to signify their desire to have the meetings carried on for the present.

At the meeting, Rev. R. K. Bowman will speak at each meeting. It is the aim of the association to have the new converts and Christian workers to take an active part in these meetings and they are urged to present tonight at 8 o'clock.

MILLIS-RAOUL.

A Brilliant Home Wedding That Occurred Last Night.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF SOCIETY

The Orpheus Glee Club Concert Tonight. The Library Reception—Notes and News of the Social World.

The wedding which united Captain John Mills, United States army, and Miss Mary Raoul, last evening, was one of unusual beauty and elegance.

The marriage ceremony was performed with eloquent solemnity by Bishop Nelson at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Raoul. The mansion is one of the most beautiful on Peachtree, and is particularly adapted to entertaining. Its arrangement and furnishings disclosed an excellent taste for luxury and rich color tones and with the entire interior brilliantly illuminated and thrown open to guests the scene was one of luxurious and poetic beauty.

Superb palms were used in the decorations, and the flowers for the occasion were roses and chrysanthemums. The fire place in the hallway was banked about with palms and the handsome carved stairway was trimmed with holy and woodland vines. The library with its Mexican decorations and furnishings, was enriched in beauty and grace by many forms and chrysanthemums banked about the bookcases.

The supper room, where the bride's table was placed, was decorated entirely in bride roses. The table was arranged in graceful and lavish fashion upon marble and bric-a-brac, and which was most dainty in its design, silver and cut glass, had as its center piece a lovely arrangement of bride roses and maiden hair ferns. Many candelabra, with white tapers, were among the adornments of this fair bridal bower. A number of smaller tables were placed about the room, so that the bride might have all her young friends around her.

The wedding occurred in the grand drawing room. Here superb white chrysanthemums were used in the decorations, and the bride wore a beautiful gown of white satin, with a beautiful bank of palms, placed behind the handsome stained glass window, formed a background for the bride in his white vestments, and the couple knelt before him to receive his blessing upon a satin cushion embroidered in orange and blue.

The bride was a vision of modest and dignified loveliness in her stately and simple gown of elegant ivory-white satin, trimmed with delicate lace and orange blossoms.

She wore a large bouquet of bride roses. Her maid of honor, Miss Rebecca Raoul, was pretty and picturesque in a gown of soft white crinkled crepe, made in simple artistic fashion. She carried Catherine Mermont.

The best man was Mr. Wade Mills, of Michigan, brother of the groom.

There were present from a distance a number of prominent people, among them Mr. and Mrs. George Dole Wadley, of Macon; Mr. and Mrs. William Rogers, of Savannah; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rogers, of Atlanta; and a number of the young officers of the Third Artillery and others from the army. Mrs. Raoul received her guests in a very handsome and becoming toilet of sea foam green moire trimmed with jet and diamonds. Her ornaments were superb diamonds.

After the ceremony an elegant and elaborate supper was served to the guests who numbered about seventy-five of the most prominent society folks. The dancing was enjoyed by the guests until late in the evening.

The presents, which were many and elaborate, were arranged in the billiard room on the second floor. Miss Raoul is the eldest daughter of Colonel W. G. Raoul, of the Georgia National Guard. She has every grace that goes to the making of a perfect woman. She inherits from both her parents the utmost refinement and intellect and ample means have made it possible for her to develop to the highest social scale.

After the ceremony an elegant and elaborate supper was served to the guests who numbered about seventy-five of the most prominent society folks. The dancing was enjoyed by the guests until late in the evening.

THE TRIAL OF THE CHANDLERS.

Witnesses Contradict Each Other—The Principals Gave Straw Bond.

Opelika, Ala., November 22.—(Special.)—The Chandler murder case that is in progress in the circuit court is a terribly mixed affair, and able attorneys on both sides are fighting manfully to secure a point. Witness after witness testifies, and in almost every case their testimony is materially different. Jim and Charlie Chandler are charged with murdering Henry Howard and during the trial Judge Carmichael made the startling discovery that these men had been free to roam where they pleased. The bond they were released on was not collectable, owing to a legal technicality. The announcement created a sensation. The trial will hardly be concluded this week.

Another Broken Rail.

Opelika, Ala., November 22.—(Special.)—Another wreck was narrowly averted on the Alabama branch of the Central railroad yesterday afternoon.

Another broken rail was discovered by a Lafayette policeman just beyond that town and within a few hundred yards of where the wreck of last Tuesday occurred. The passenger train was stopped, and the passengers were taken to safety. The broken rail was removed, and the train was allowed to proceed.

THROUGH GEORGIA.

Rev. W. A. Mcintosh and Professor E. C. Koch were fined $50 each and costs by Mayor Smith, of Gainesville, for working on Sunday. They were fined for working on Sunday. They were fined for working on Sunday.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Macon, Ga., November 22.—(Special.)—Mrs. Rogers, mother of Mr. Julian Rogers, a leading and wealthy citizen of Macon, for many years in the newspaper business here, died today. She was a noble and Christian lady with hundreds of warm friends in different parts of the state.

Greenwood S. C., November 22.—(Special.)—Rev. Daniel M. Beattie, pastor of the Presbyterian church here, died this morning in his forty-second year, leaving a wife and seven children. He came here from Canada. Dr. J. L. Girardeau, of Columbia, preached the funeral sermon and the remains will be taken to Canada.

Montgomery, Ala., November 22.—(Special.)—S. D. Hubbard, assistant manager of the Montgomery of works, one of the most popular young men in the city, dropped dead late this evening from heart disease.

TWO SMALL FIRES YESTERDAY.

The Department Had a Couple of Spirited Runs, but There Was Very Little Damage.

An alarm of fire was turned in yesterday morning from Box 22. The companies responding were No. 3 hose wagon, No. 4 hose wagon, No. 1 hook and ladder, No. 1 chemical, and No. 1 hose wagon. The fire was in the roof of a negro house in Hobo alley and was put out with but little trouble.

The second alarm came in during the afternoon from Box 61. No. 1 hose wagon, No. 4 hose wagon, No. 1 chemical and No. 1 hook and ladder answering the call. The fire was in a defective line at 229 Auburn street, where a house occupied by A. B. Brown.

The Meetings Will Continue.

The good work which has been going on at the Young Men's Christian Association will not cease with the departure of Colonel H. H. Hadley, but the meetings will continue. When it was put to the vote last night, the large number of men in the hall, which was crowded to its utmost capacity, was raised to signify their desire to have the meetings carried on for the present.

At the meeting, Rev. R. K. Bowman will speak at each meeting. It is the aim of the association to have the new converts and Christian workers to take an active part in these meetings and they are urged to present tonight at 8 o'clock.

MILLIS-RAOUL.

A Brilliant Home Wedding That Occurred Last Night.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF SOCIETY

The Orpheus Glee Club Concert Tonight. The Library Reception—Notes and News of the Social World.

The wedding which united Captain John Mills, United States army, and Miss Mary Raoul, last evening, was one of unusual beauty and elegance.

The marriage ceremony was performed with eloquent solemnity by Bishop Nelson at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Raoul. The mansion is one of the most beautiful on Peachtree, and is particularly adapted to entertaining. Its arrangement and furnishings disclosed an excellent taste for luxury and rich color tones and with the entire interior brilliantly illuminated and thrown open to guests the scene was one of luxurious and poetic beauty.

Superb palms were used in the decorations, and the flowers for the occasion were roses and chrysanthemums. The fire place in the hallway was banked about with palms and the handsome carved stairway was trimmed with holy and woodland vines. The library with its Mexican decorations and furnishings, was enriched in beauty and grace by many forms and chrysanthemums banked about the bookcases.

The supper room, where the bride's table was placed, was decorated entirely in bride roses. The table was arranged in graceful and lavish fashion upon marble and bric-a-brac, and which was most dainty in its design, silver and cut glass, had as its center piece a lovely arrangement of bride roses and maiden hair ferns. Many candelabra, with white tapers, were among the adornments of this fair bridal bower. A number of smaller tables were placed about the room, so that the bride might have all her young friends around her.

The wedding occurred in the grand drawing room. Here superb white chrysanthemums were used in the decorations, and the bride wore a beautiful gown of white satin, with a beautiful bank of palms, placed behind the handsome stained glass window, formed a background for the bride in his white vestments, and the couple knelt before him to receive his blessing upon a satin cushion embroidered in orange and blue.

The bride was a vision of modest and dignified loveliness in her stately and simple gown of elegant ivory-white satin, trimmed with delicate lace and orange blossoms.

She wore a large bouquet of bride roses. Her maid of honor, Miss Rebecca Raoul, was pretty and picturesque in a gown of soft white crinkled crepe, made in simple artistic fashion. She carried Catherine Mermont.

The best man was Mr. Wade Mills, of Michigan, brother of the groom.

There were present from a distance a number of prominent people, among them Mr. and Mrs. George Dole Wadley, of Macon; Mr. and Mrs. William Rogers, of Savannah; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rogers, of Atlanta; and a number of the young officers of the Third Artillery and others from the army. Mrs. Raoul received her guests in a very handsome and becoming toilet of sea foam green moire trimmed with jet and diamonds. Her ornaments were superb diamonds.

After the ceremony an elegant and elaborate supper was served to the guests who numbered about seventy-five of the most prominent society folks. The dancing was enjoyed by the guests until late in the evening.

The presents, which were many and elaborate, were arranged in the billiard room on the second floor. Miss Raoul is the eldest daughter of Colonel W. G. Raoul, of the Georgia National Guard. She has every grace that goes to the making of a perfect woman. She inherits from both her parents the utmost refinement and intellect and ample means have made it possible for her to develop to the highest social scale.

After the ceremony

MAJOR RAISE RATES.

Macon Must Have More Water or Pay Higher Insurance.

PROPERTY OWNERS ARE AGITATED

Whenever There Is a Fire the Department Asserts That It Is Hindered by the Lack of Water.

Macon, Ga., November 22.—(Special).—Macon's property holders are considerably exercised over the probability of the fire insurance rate being increased so as to take an aggregate of about $300,000 annually out of the city insurance premiums.

Recently several small fires have occurred in the city and in each instance the report was made that the fire department was handicapped by an inadequate water supply. These reports reached the officers of the Southern Fire Insurance Association, and that association has notified the local board of underwriters that unless better water facilities in case of fire are provided, Macon will be ruled as a second-class city, which will, of course, run up the premium rate considerably.

The local board of underwriters has submitted the letter received from the Southern Fire Insurance Association to the city council with a request that the matter be fully investigated and the defect remedied. The subject was up for discussion at last night's meeting of the council and Alderman Collins said he thought that the city council should take steps to see that the water company complied with its contract, and if the matter was not remedied the rate of insurance, which is high enough at present, will be raised.

The city's representative called on a number of the leading insurance companies today and inquired as to the real situation. They were all rather reticent in expressing an opinion as to the merits of the alleged insufficiency of the water supply. Their views are well understood on the subject, however, but they did not hesitate to say that there was danger of the rate being increased.

George W. Duncan & Co., state that they received a circular in connection to Macon from the secretary of underwriters, and unless something is done in the matter, Macon will be put in the second class, which will increase the premium $50,000, and that the Macon board has requested council to take action in the matter and find out where the fault is.

The increase in the insurance rate is not the most serious part of the situation if the water supply is inadequate as it is reported to be. The great danger of loss of property should give first consideration, and the people are on the warpath and demand that the whole matter be speedily looked into.

Major Cobb's Funeral.

Major J. B. Cobb was laid to rest in Riverside cemetery this afternoon.

This morning the funeral of the underwriter, of which Major Cobb was president and the senior member, at a meeting called for that purpose, held at the office of G. B. Jewett, the following adopted suitable resolutions on the death of Major Cobb:

The funeral services were conducted by Dr. W. C. Bass, president of Wesleyan Female college at Mulberry Street Methodist church, of which the deceased was a member.

Dr. Bass was a life long friend of Major Cobb, and a great admirer of his high and noble character and his devotion to the Christian religion. The services were conducted in a most impressive manner.

The young ladies of Wesleyan attended the funeral in a body.

The pallbearers were H. D. Adams, Isaac Hardeman, R. F. Burden, C. B. Williamson, J. W. Cabaniss, C. M. Wiley, Campbell T. King.

The funeral was largely attended and the floral offerings were many and beautiful.

The Hospital Fund.

The people of Macon are determined to have a hospital. This morning the following letter was handed to the mayor and council by Treasurer Jones, of the city hospital fund:

"Macon, Ga., November 22, 1911.—To the Honorable Mayor and Council of the City of Macon: As treasurer of the city hospital fund, I have the honor to inform you that the fund has now reached the sum of $4,000. It is desired that work on the building shall commence as early as possible. I therefore beg leave to request that a suitable site may be set aside for this purpose by your honorable body and that the city authorities, in connection with some of our leading citizens, will, as soon as possible, push forward the work.

"If inexpedient for the present administration to commence, may I ask that they will kindly refer it to the incoming administration for their prompt action. Very respectfully,

T. SKELTON JONES,

Treasurer H. F."

Mr. Jones states that there will be near $10,000 on hand by the time a site can be secured.

The Bankers' Meet.

The State Bankers' Association met at the Hotel Lanier yesterday and passed resolutions requesting Georgia's representation in congress to work for the repeal of the state bank tax.

SHOT WHILE HUNTING.

Brady's Foot Caught in a Vine and His Gun Was Discharged.

Thomasville, Ga., November 22.—(Special).—Dan Chastain, a young man living twelve miles from here, yesterday from the effects of a wound accidentally received last Saturday. Chastain and a friend named Brady were out hunting squirrels on the day mentioned. Brady's foot became entangled in a vine, which threw him down and discharged his gun. The entire load took effect in Chastain's back, inflicting a fatal wound. Although the best of medical attention was rendered, his life could not be saved.

Had to Jump for Life. Express Messenger Croun had a very narrow escape from death or serious injury yesterday. He had started to the country and stopped at the freight depot for a few moments. While waiting there a freight train came down the track, and Croun, who was standing on the platform, was struck by the engine and thrown into the air.

Mr. Croun jumped from the vehicle in the air and fell to the ground and the city came within a few inches of passing over both bodies. It was a narrow escape for both man and beast. Thomasville has raised the quarantine against despot and will have all inspectors on trains coming from the east.

A Raid in Monroe County.

Gaffa, Ga., November 22.—(Special).—This morning a raiding party of revenue officers—Deputy Collector H. S. Graves, Deputy Marshal George H. Thomas and Deputy Marshal Howard Harris, of Macon—passed through the city from a successful raid on the city of Wright, near Unionville, Monroe county. They found the city was run on a large scale, as there were thirty-five stands of corn ready for shelling. A six-day-old corn crop was captured. W. G. Wright and Guy Vaughn were arrested and carried to Macon to have their preliminary trials.

Conference at Milner.

Barnesville, Ga., November 22.—(Special).—The state conference of the Congregational Methodist church will convene at Graham's chapel, the new church at Milner, Ga., November 30th. The delegates and others who will go from here and this section are anticipating much good from this conference.

He Is the Negative Pole.

Vaidosta, Ga., November 22.—(Special).—The "Little Georgia Magnet" and her husband, separated at Quitman. She gave an entertainment at Vaidosta last night and tried to get up a machine for this morning. Her power over timid denizens is not abated.

WINDS UP TONIGHT.

The Municipal Campaign in Athens Is Almost at an End.

AND IT IS TIME IT WAS OVER

People Stand on the Streets to Watch for Scraps Thrown by the Candidates. Reed Puffs the Band.

Athens, Ga., November 22.—(Special).—The political pot is boiling hard today and by tomorrow night, when the last speeches of the majority campaign are to be delivered, the excitement will be intense enough to satisfy the hottest politician in the city. The lines have been drawn so tightly as to cause four or five "scraps" between prominent citizens, and everybody is on the qui vive for others. If the record of the past twenty-four hours is a fair criterion, the city will be no disappointment to those who are fond of a friendly little punching between the so-called "city fathers."

These street battles are not at all funny to the belligerent parties themselves, but to the onlookers, who present some very amusing features. The other day two of the most dignified and highly respected citizens of Athens took a cocoon from a neighboring fruit stand, and would doubtless have broken each other's skulls had not the poor proprietor beseeched them to save his cocoon.

Both candidates have engaged brass bands to assist in booming their candidacy. The morning papers contained a small notice yesterday complaining the music of one of the bands.

A Puff for the Band.

The other candidate, in his address last night, told the editor up one side and down the other, and wanted to know why the paper could not say something nice about his band. The editor, realizing that he had made a great mistake, and that the course he had taken in this very important matter might lose him his subscribers, so this morning he published in his paper a notice of extraordinary proportions, not only laying on to the other band, but giving a biography of every member and a history of the organization since its first inception. He said that the band was a fine one and should lose no subscribers now, though the mistake is much to be regretted as it was a very bad one.

Tomorrow night each side promises to make it hot for the other. As the election follows in a few days, it is safe to predict that if the weather is good nearly every voter in Athens will be present.

There are 847 white voters registered. The friends of Captain O'Farrell claim that his election is assured and that there is no cause for the slightest uneasiness.

Mr. Jessee's followers seem just as confident as Captain O'Farrell's. They say that they will get a handsome majority.

Every one expects a close race with no walk over for either party.

The candidates are working quickly. The mayor's race is causing so much interest that the city is all eyes and ears. The candidates are: First ward, M. C. Ash, J. N. Booth; second ward, G. H. Yancy; fourth ward, J. Y. Carethers.

The Football Game.

Next Saturday at least 150 and probably 200 students and citizens will go over to witness the great game of football between the University of Georgia and Vanderbilt. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

FOR HIGH STAKES.

A Great Game Is Being Played in the Railroad World.

THE CENTRAL HOLDS ONE HAND

Mr. Pat Calhoun Is Thought to Be Directing the Movement of Other Participants—South Carolina Is in It.

Savannah, Ga., November 22.—(Special).—There is now in progress on the railroad chessboard one of the prettiest fights that has been seen in the south perhaps in years. The property at issue is the Port Royal and Augusta railroad, and whether the fight is a two or three cornered one must be judged by the circumstances surrounding the situation.

The Central railroad owns the majority of the stock and bonds of the company, and, of course, ordinarily would be in control of the property, but under the receivership of Mr. Averill things are different. The state of South Carolina, too, is taking a hand, and the new town situation has taken so far that state is concerned is at least interesting.

Finally Mr. Pat Calhoun is keeping a sharp weather eye on Port Royal and surroundings, where he has large interests at stake. It is believed by some that he is to a certain extent responsible for the action that has been taken by the state, which promises to create one of the most interesting railroad fights that has been seen in this section in some time.

The latest move on the chessboard has been made by the state of South Carolina through the report of Attorney General Townsend.

The attorney general, after looking over the situation and summing it up, saying all he can detrimental to the administration of Mr. Comer and all in favor of the Averill administration, concludes his report with the following interesting suggestion, looking towards bringing the property into political use:

Amendment of Charter Recommended.

I would respectfully recommend the passage by the general assembly of an act repealing the charter of the Port Royal and Augusta railroad, and providing in its place a proper way for the winding up of its affairs, and for distribution of its assets by sale, among its creditors and other legally entitled thereto, according to the provisions of the laws of this state.

Every one expects a close race with no walk over for either party. The candidates are working quickly. The mayor's race is causing so much interest that the city is all eyes and ears. The candidates are: First ward, M. C. Ash, J. N. Booth; second ward, G. H. Yancy; fourth ward, J. Y. Carethers.

Next Saturday at least 150 and probably 200 students and citizens will go over to witness the great game of football between the University of Georgia and Vanderbilt. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia. The game will be played at the University of Georgia.

FIREBUGS AT WORK.

Dougherty County Is Infested by a Gang Which Is Playing Havoc.

COLONEL WIGHT RUNS FOR ALDERMAN

Albany Has an Interesting Political Campaign On—Citizens There Pay Their Taxes Promptly.

Albany, Ga., November 22.—(Special).—Another incendiary fire took place in the eastern portion of this county last night, the property destroyed being the gin and grist mill of W. J. Pinson, involving a loss of $25,000. Several prior unsuccessful attempts had been made to fire the plant. That section of the county has become alarmed over the frequency of incendiary fires, and the people feel safe as long as the firebugs are unapprehended.

A Live Campaign Is On.

Municipal politics is exciting a good deal of attention in this city. Some time since a ticket for mayor and aldermen was placed before the public which did not meet with entire satisfaction. It was argued that the people had no voice in the selection of the ticket and that it was time for the people to assert themselves. This was followed by a large mass meeting which elected a committee of fifteen citizens to select a ticket for the people. The committee met last Monday.

The self-appointed ticket, having decided that the people should have a voice in the selection of the ticket, the committee placed themselves in the hands of the committee of fifteen. This committee, in appreciation of the action of this ticket, nominated three candidates on the people's ticket and left four others out in the cold. One of these is Colonel E. L. Wight, late commanding officer of the Fourth Georgia regiment, who, not liking the action of the committee, is going to make the race for alderman independently and alone.

Speaks Well for the People.

In the matter of prompt payment of taxes, the taxpayers of Albany lead the world. Chief of Police W. H. Lewis, who has been the city marshal for fourteen years, is responsible for the statement that during his incumbency of office, not a single sale of property for taxes has taken place.

AMERICUS HAS A PRIMARY.

Certain Bills Now Pending Were Issues in the Campaign.

Americus, Ga., November 22.—(Special).—Americus held a primary election today to nominate three aldermen to be voted for in December. The contest was close and exciting, as there were six candidates in the field. The vote stood: T. N. Hawes, 319; C. J. Sherlock, 232; W. B. Burt, 226; W. L. Lang, 188; L. J. Black, 174; T. F. Logan, 70.

One of the leading issues was the change in the method of electing the city board of education and members of the city board of health to change which are now pending in the legislature. The successful candidates are said to favor the change.

Pushed Under the Wheels.

Savannah, Ga., November 22.—(Special).—Warner Groover, a boy twelve years old, was pushed under the wheels of a buggy driven by Dick Dieter yesterday afternoon and is said to be fatally injured. It has not been determined where the fault lies. Dieter was arrested pending an investigation.

It is supposed that he was pushed towards the moving buggy by some of his playmates in a spirit of fun and fell under the wheels. The physicians say he cannot live.

An Old Man Roughly Used.

Columbus, Ga., November 22.—(Special).—Mr. J. Grist, the crippled and aged keeper of Capps' factory, suffering from brutal treatment at the hands of Messrs. Upshaw, a notorious negro, tonight. His left arm was broken and the back of his head and left cheek were severely cut. The negro escaped. Capps' factory is about three miles north of the city.

Are you suffering with Consumption, Bright's Disease, Rheumatism, Scrofula, Blood Poisoning, or any of the many troubles which make life miserable? Do you know that cures all such diseases by removing the prime cause—microbes. There is no disease incurable if this remedy is taken in time. A 50 page book, containing valuable information for sufferers, mailed free.

RADAM'S Microbe Killer

The William Radam Microbe Killer Co. 7 Light St., New York City.

A 50 page book, containing valuable information for sufferers, mailed free.

JACOB'S PHARMACY

MEETING NOTICE.

A regular communication of Atlanta Lodge, No. 34, F. and A. M., will be held in Masonic hall, old capitol building, at 7 o'clock sharp, this (Thursday) evening. Work in the degrees. This is the regular communication prior to the annual one and election of officers. Brethren qualified are fraternally invited.

Z. B. MOON, Secretary.

L. P. STEPHENS, Worshipful Master.

State and County Tax Books are now open for paying tax. Pay at once and save costs.

til dec 20-e o d

The Augusta Exposition

AND

Georgia State Fair

Will be a Perfect Encyclopaedia for the Young and Old.

In fact, it will form the strongest combination of instructive and entertaining recreation will be so numerous and varied space will not admit of a detailed list.

WHAT SCHOOL MONEY.

Mr. Fleming Gives a Succinct Statement of the Situation.

TWO KINDS OF QUARTERLY PAYMENT

Have Been Discussed and the Result Has Been Confusion—Mr. Fleming Gives Some Interesting Figures.

Mr. Fleming is deeply interested in the matter of securing quarterly payment to the teachers and has naturally been studying the report of that special committee which said there is enough money in the treasury to pay the teachers, the soldiers and the widows quarterly.

Mr. Fleming is chairman of the house finance committee and he is usually very accurate when it comes to figures. Besides this, he is the author of a bill bearing on this important subject—the bill which the educational committee has decided to report favorably.

A Constitution representative asked him yesterday for a precise statement as to the school fund and the pension fund, especially with reference to the joint committee's report referred to.

"I will take pleasure in trying to do what you ask," said he in reply. "There seems to be a serious misapprehension on several points. First, that joint report says: 'We, therefore, recommend the passage of a bill authorizing the payment of public school teachers' salaries quarterly, that is to say one-fourth of the fund to be paid the 1st day of April, one-fourth the 1st day of July, one-fourth the 1st day of October and one-fourth the 1st day of January of each year,' etc. Now you see at once that such quarterly payment as that is not what the teachers and the newspapers and the public generally have been working for. What we mean by 'quarterly payment' is payment in full once a quarter; that is, the committee means by 'quarterly payment' is 25 percent each quarter, thus extending the payment over twelve months. So you see we are using the same words, but with very different meanings. We are arguing from entirely different premises.

"That the plan proposed by the committee will not give quarterly payment as we mean it—that is payment in full once a quarter—can be easily demonstrated. In fact, I am quite sure the committee would not take issue with us on that point. They have never said such payment could be had. They were referring to a very different kind of quarterly payment, which would by no means correct the evil we complain of.

Second, the joint report says: 'The taxes for the payment of the appropriations to the widows and disabled soldiers do not reach the treasury until December of each year, but heretofore they have been paid eight or nine months previous thereto.'

"Now, as to that statement of fact, I beg to take direct issue with the committee, especially as to the widows' pensions, and I judge the same is true as to the soldiers' pensions. I maintain that the widows are not paid before, but after, the money is received in the treasury. We all know the widows get their pensions in February. The joint committee says that money comes into the treasury the following December. The issue is a plain question of fact and I appeal to the official records of the state. The records in the office of the comptroller general show that the usual time for the governor to make the tax levy is the latter part of August. In 1891 this levy was not made until September 26th. This postponement was made by the governor in order that the legislature, then holding its July session, might provide additional funds to meet the widows' pensions. The first act to pension widows was approved December, 1890, directing payment to be made of $80,000 for the year beginning February, 1891. Instead of $80,000 being sufficient it was found that $400,000 was necessary. The tax levy for 1891 was made September 26, 1891, and the rate for general purposes, which included pensions, was increased from 2 7/10 mills for 1890 to 3 1/2 mills for 1891. This increase was made to cover the additional amount for widows' pensions mainly. I have a written statement signed by the comptroller general, saying the levy of 3 1/2-10 for 1891 did include the widows' pensions for 1891.

"Now, the taxes under that levy of September 26, 1891, reached the treasury in December, 1891, not 1892. The first payment of pensions to widows was made in February, 1892, not February, 1891. These are facts of record.

"So it is just as clear as written evidence can make it that the joint committee is wrong when it says the widows are paid eight or nine months before their money gets into the treasury. Whatever other purposes the school fund may have been used for, it is plainly evident that it is not used to pay widows' pensions."

"Is there any opposition or contradiction between the report of the joint committee and the bill favorably reported by the educational committee for the more prompt payment of the teachers?"

"In reality none at all," answered Mr. Fleming. "That bill provides that all money in the treasury belonging to the schools shall be paid out quarterly. If the joint committee is right (and I wish it were), then the teachers will be paid in full quarterly; if the joint committee is wrong, then the money will be paid as far as it will go. There is no reason at all why the members of the joint committee and those who hold their views should not aid us to pass the bill now before the house, especially as the friends of the bill have agreed to accept an amendment giving any county the right not to postpone its schools for the first six months of 1894 if it is deemed best not to do so. With that amendment agreed to, it is sincerely hoped the bill will meet with no opposition."

NEW COUNCIL ROYAL ARCANUM.

Grand Officers from Atlanta Install Officer at Decatur.

Last night Past Grand Regent G. S. Prior, assisted by Past Regents A. Rosefeld and August Denck, with Orator Charles W. Hubner and others of Atlanta council No. 100, instituted a council of the Royal Arcanum at Decatur. The new council is named Decatur council. The following officers were elected and installed by Past Grand Regent G. S. Prior: Regent, G. A. Ramsdell; past regent, Roger Williams; vice regent, W. W. Branswell; orator, G. H. Gardner; secretary, H. R. Jewett; collector, J. A. Moutgomery; treasurer, C. E. Gibbs; guide, N. L. Hill; chaplain, C. D. McKenney; warden, W. J. Houston, Jr.; sentry, S. S. Nash.

Trustees—First year, H. L. Darry; second year, S. H. Foster; third year, H. J. Williams.

This council bids fair to succeed, being composed of excellent material.

RYAN CO. CLOSED UP.

A Petition Charging Fraud Against It Filed Yesterday.

UNPROTECTED CREDITORS ARE KICKING

Judge Lumpkin Ordered Receiver E. H. Thornton to Close Up the Store—Hearing Set for Saturday.

Already in the hands of a receiver, the Ryan Company was closed up yesterday by the sheriff on an order of Judge Lumpkin attached to a petition filed yesterday afternoon by attorneys for the unprotected creditors.

The attorneys filing the bill were Calhoun, King & Spaulding, B. Z. Phillips, Robert Zahner and others, representing about $200,000 of the creditors, who are not mentioned in the mortgage filed in the general assignment of the Ryan Company.

Among the foremost of creditors interested in the petition are LeBrew, Roy, Sim & Co., of New York; Lazarus, Liebman & Rosenfeld, of New York, and Robinson & Smith, of Philadelphia, and others. The bill alleges that the Ryan Company bought goods without having any intention of paying for the stuff bought. The charge of fraud is also made, and the petition prays that the store be closed and that an inventory of the stock be taken. These creditors also wish to be allowed to identify and claim goods in the Ryan store. They assert that their rights are superior to the creditors protected by mortgages.

There was a hearing before Judge Lumpkin, who ordered that the store be closed and that he would give the matter a hearing on Saturday. Receiver Thornton closed the store immediately upon being notified of Judge Lumpkin's order, and nothing will be done in the way of trade until a further hearing is granted.

The outcome is in favor of the petitioners an inventory of all the stock will be taken, and the petitioners will be given a chance to look up the goods which they desire to identify.

Interventions in the Miller Receivership.

Two interventions were filed yesterday by Calhoun & King in the petition of Ryan, Wellborn et al., upon which F. T. Osborn was appointed receiver. Joseph Van Holt Nash & Co. is one of the intervenors and the Henry L. Scales Tobacco Company is the other party. Nash & Co. hold three notes, amounting to $138.86, and have an open account of $68.43. The claim of Scales is on an open account of $52.47.

Mr. Miller attributes matters to poor methods of collections as well as to heavy expenses. He hopes to pay every cent that he owes, if his assets are properly managed.

Receiver Appointed for Wm. Laird.

James L. Key was appointed to the receivership of William Laird's grocery store yesterday. But since consented to the appointment of Mr. Key, Mr. Laird attributes his failure to poor collections and on account of hard times.

To Return a Sealed Verdict.

The jury in the suit of Houston against the East Tennessee railroad went out yesterday. The suit is for $10,000 damages. The jury was instructed to return a sealed verdict.

POLICE NEWS CONDENSED.

Adelle Valentino had a lively experience dodging bullets last night. It was only by the merest scratch that she was saved from being the victim of one of the leaden missiles that was fired at her.

She is the keeper of a house of bad repute on Thompson street, and has frequent trouble at her place. Last night two or three young men went to the place and got into a row. Mr. Valentino attempted to get them and they grew boisterous. She insisted upon their leaving at once, and they obstinately refused to leave. The quarrel was but a minute in assuming dangerous proportions. One of the young men jerked out a revolver and began firing. The bullets whizzed about her head, and it seems miraculous that one of the bullets did not strike her. She ran into a room and the young men followed her.

She sent for the policemen on that beat and notified them of the occurrence and they came to the young men. The officers made a search for the obstreperous fellows, but failed to locate them.

Ed Mapp was a truly puzzled mortal when he was assigned as Receiver Calhoun yesterday afternoon and charged with shooting his wife. Mapp is a young huckster, and when a patrolman arrested him on his back he was as wise in astonishment. He at once sent for an attorney and prepared to fight the case. Yesterday afternoon he appeared before the recorder and his perplexity was visible on his face.

"I cannot understand it at all," he said. "I got no wife and I don't know how this case came up."

Patrolman Crosslee, who had ordered the arrest of the man who shot his wife, said that he believed it was a case of mistaken identity. "I don't think this is the man," he said. Mapp repeated his statement that he was not a Benedict. He was dismissed and the case explained.

Eight before last a big yellow dog of the name of Ed Mapp living in Bradstreet's alley, shot five times at his wife. Two of the bullets struck her, but fortunately made no wound. One of them struck a button on the front of her dress. The matter was reported at police headquarters yesterday morning, and hence Ed Mapp's bewilderment.

Mark Clark's car was the price he paid for visiting another man's wife. This price is not even to be mitigated by the prosecution of Isaac Robinson, the husband of the wife Clark visited, who was arrested yesterday.

Clark's car is now in a bottle of alcohol in Detective Ed Cason's room. The bottle has a neat little typewritten label: "Mark Clark's car; cut off by Isaac Robinson November 13th."

Will Bell, a young negro without any rating in Bradstreet's books, seemed about to open a hardware store yesterday afternoon. He had a large number of bright new knives, razors and other articles, but he was unable to give an account of his ownership of them that would please the patrolman. Officer Shepley arrested him, and after investigating the matter a little had a case of burglary entered against him. It is thought that all of the property found in the negro's possession was taken from T. M. Carke & Co.'s hardware store when it was burglarized two weeks ago.

Mrs. Bratton, of 188 Simpson street, reported to the detectives yesterday afternoon that she had lost a valuable gold watch between her home and the city. She was un-der the impression that she had lost it, and was in doubt as to whether she had dropped it or whether it had been snatched by a pickpocket.

Miss Etta Smith is still confined in the woman's department at the police station. Yesterday a cousin of hers called on Chief Calhoun and said he would make preparation to have her sent to the state asylum or treated for the morphia habit. It seems that Miss Smith is connected with several prominent families in this city. Dr. B. A. Symms, a physician of 140 Alexander street, has asked to be allowed to treat Miss Smith. He feels sure that he can cure her of the habit which brought on her present mental state and it is probable that he will treat her.

Police Captain Manly has in his possession a check drawn on the National Bank of Asheville, N. C., in favor of Mrs. Florence M. Carter and signed by J. H. Carter. It is awaiting the owner.

CAPTAIN BROTHERTON'S FATHER DEAD.—Rev. Levi Brotherton, 810 E. McLean, 324 Whitehall street, W. H. Brotherton and Mrs. C. E. McLean, his son and daughter, leave by the Western and Atlantic railroad this morning at 8 o'clock, for Dalton, Ga., where he will be buried Friday morning.

TO PERISH OF HUNGER

Smith, the Crank, Seems Determined Not to Pay Board.

HE IS SLOWLY STARVING TO DEATH

Has Eaten Nothing in a Week and Is Now Stretched Upon a Cot at the Jail. Bound Over for Assault.

Smith, of Nowhere, the finely developed specimen of the crank, has taken up a temporary abode at the Fulton county jail. After vain attempts to have him committed to jail on a writ of lunacy, Sergeant Calhoun yesterday had him committed to the city recorder on a charge of assault, the basis of this charge being the strange and unexplainable attack upon Mr. J. J. Skinner at the Young Men's Christian Association's reading room.

Ordinary Calhoun refused to issue a writ of lunacy for the crank, because Smith was a non-resident. The police department protested that Smith claimed no particular spot as his home, and that this city was as much his home as any other place in the world. The ordinary said wait, however, and probably relatives of the crank would turn up.

None have come, and yesterday the police officials grew impatient and decided to take action independent of the ordinary. The fact of the assault was brought to Recorder Calhoun's notice as sufficient ground for a commitment on the charge of assault and battery, and the recorder was not slow to take the action. He signed a commitment paper, sending Smith to jail.

Smith submitted to the transfer with the same passive unresistance that he has always shown since he has been at police headquarters. He walked out into the station house keeper's office with downcast eyes and stepped into the patrol wagon without the slightest show of reluctance or unwillingness to go.

Smith has changed a great deal in appearance since he was carried to the police station. He has not eaten anything, and his stubborn abstinence from all food has held on him. His yellowish face is more sunken and thin than ever, and his eyes are dull and sleepy looking. His lips are devoid of color, and he has the general appearance of a weary and dispirited man.

Smith refuses food in a very quiet manner, without attempting to make any show of his determination to eat nothing, or to make the attention of one to himself. When food was offered him, he simply declined it in a courteous way, and when he is pressed to eat something he will say that he has firmly made up his mind to eat nothing while he is kept in prison. He is extremely courteous in his intercourse with the jailers, and shows evidences of excellent breeding. He continued his immovable line of conduct when carried to jail and steadily refuses food. He was given a room to himself, and immediately stretched himself upon a cot from sheer weakness. He begged the jailer not to allow any one to see him, and not to ask him to eat anything.

The refusal of Smith to eat anything has brought to the surface a great number of stories. The police department has been told of the refusal of Smith to eat anything, and the police department has been told of the refusal of Smith to eat anything, and the police department has been told of the refusal of Smith to eat anything.

POLICE AFTER THE OPERA MASHER.

They Search the Town for Him, but He Has Flown.

The swell New Yorker with the chrysanthemum who has been tagging after Fay Templeton's Opera Company, it left Washington about a fortnight ago, has done what Manager Towers has repeatedly requested him to do—disappeared. For this complete riddance of a most uninteresting adherent Manager Towers has been obliged to make a search for the opera singer's opera singer are indebted to Manager Hub Matthews, of the Edgewood.

Yesterday the police made an exhaustive search for the masher, but he had flown and a trace of him could be found. It was understood that he had been stopping at the Aragon with three friends, but he could not be found there. Every other place in the city where a theatrical masher would be likely to stop was searched, but the masher was gone.

The police department was especially eager to capture the frisky fellow for the reason that the shooting affair had passed off without a single policeman knowing anything about it. But they were doomed to disappointment. Manager Powers does not know the young fellow by name, but he knows him by the capacity of a very indignant manager, who found himself repeatedly called upon to call the New Yorker down for his foolish behavior. At nearly every performance he has been asked to request the New Yorker to stop doing something he ought not to do, and the night Manager Matthews had the New Yorker to quit or leave the theater. All the young ladies of the company gave the New Yorker a cold shoulder, so they say, yet he hung on with a commendable persistency.

The police would like to know his address just now.

WANTS TO BE POLICE MATRON.

The Lady Who Prayed for Dr. Hawthorne a Candidate for the Place.

Mrs. Foster, the lady who recently prayed in the Christian Workers' convention for the conversion of Dr. Hawthorne, seems likely to become an attaché of the police department of this city. She has about decided to make Atlanta her home, and it is probable that she will be elected police matron.

Mrs. Foster called on Chief Connolly two or three days ago and asked for the place. She said she would fill the position during the winter without any salary, but would expect remuneration after that. She seemed to have her heart in the work and impressed the chief quite favorably. He talked the matter over with her and told her that he could give her no definite answer, but would bring the proposition before the board at its meeting this week.

Mrs. Foster is an elderly lady and is possessed of a splendid education. She is a graduate of a law school, and is a most earnest worker. Her home is at Hyde Park, near Boston, and she came south with the Christian Workers. She did not return with them, however.

Chief Connolly decided sometime ago that a matron was needed to look after women and girls that are carried to police headquarters, and Mrs. Foster had done the work in asking for this work. She says she will endeavor to lead them to reform their lives and will look after them as mothers, and not as prisoners. The police board will meet this week and the matter will be brought before it.

THE THIRD CITY COURT.

The Advocates of the Court Issue an Address.

An address has been issued "to the public" signed by a committee organized by a meeting of the lawyers who are in favor of the third city court.

The committee was not appointed by the Bar Association of Atlanta, and its utterances, therefore, are only the opinions of individuals, and in no way commit the bar association to the support of that measure.

The address goes on to recite that the establishment of another court in Atlanta would carry with it little additional expense, "if carried out in a judicious manner." It says that the growth and business activity of Atlanta is given as the reason for the increase of litigation, and other cities of like standing are pointed to as exceeding Atlanta in court facilities. It is important that litigation should be promptly disposed of. "The business of courts is to administer justice. They are created for that purpose, and the law, instead of discouraging a resort to the courts to enforce rights and redress wrongs, invites it." This is a striking sentence of the address. The article concludes:

"The talk that this court will benefit only lawyers is denunciated in the extreme end is an unfair argument intended to play upon the prejudices of the ignorant. But we apprehend such methods of argument will fall short of influencing the intelligent public. We regret that any of our brethren of the bar should even by implication, join in such an argument."

One of the leading lawyers, who was not invited to the meeting, speaking about the address, says:

"The talk that this court will benefit only lawyers is denunciated in the extreme end is an unfair argument intended to play upon the prejudices of the ignorant. But we apprehend such methods of argument will fall short of influencing the intelligent public. We regret that any of our brethren of the bar should even by implication, join in such an argument."

One of the leading lawyers, who was not invited to the meeting, speaking about the address, says:

"The talk that this court will benefit only lawyers is denunciated in the extreme end is an unfair argument intended to play upon the prejudices of the ignorant. But we apprehend such methods of argument will fall short of influencing the intelligent public. We regret that any of our brethren of the bar should even by implication, join in such an argument."

TOOK IN THE TOWN.

And When Farmer Heath Had Finished His Sight-Seeing

HE HAD PAID WELL FOR HIS FUN

His Accommodating Guides Knocked Him Down and Robbed Him of His Purse. How He Reported the Case.

When Chief of Detectives Wright reached his office, on the third floor of the police station, yesterday afternoon, he found a bewildered granger sleeping gently in one of the big arm chairs. The sleeping man was evidently from the country, and his rugged, sun-browned face was embellished with a large, red wound on the forehead.

Captain Wright shook his visitor. The visitor still slept. He shook him again more vigorously. "What do you want here?" he asked. Slowly the bewildered man opened his eyes and murmured:

"I want my money."

Question him as he would, the chief could get no further information from the man, who immediately lapsed into sleep again. The chief detective rang for Turnkey Gallagher and ordered the latter to lock his guest in a cell.

"Don't make any case against him," he instructed, "but keep him until he gets straight, and maybe he'll be able to tell something."

The turnkey gave the sleeping citizen a cell, and watched over him with fatherly care until yesterday afternoon late when the man with the extensive hirsute adornments came to his senses. He raised a swollen face and an aching head and asked for the chief of detectives. He was evidently suffering very much from the strain of mental excitement and said he had something very important to tell to the chief of detectives.

He did not exaggerate the importance of his story, for it was one of that class which frequently bob up serenely when a countryman with a well-filled purse and a social disposition comes to town. It's an old story in the annals of the police department.

The stranger said his name was George Heath and that he was a farmer, living in Pulaski county, near Goldsboro, Ga. He has been suffering for a long while with a felon in his eye, which gave him intense pain and threatened him with the loss of his eyesight. He came to Atlanta two days ago for the purpose of having Dr. Calhoun operate on his eyes, and he had a roll of money, in a nice black purse, to pay for the job. He called on the oculist and made an appointment to call yesterday to have the first work done.

This done he felt at liberty to take in the town. He fell in with two young fellows, who manifested a surprising interest in him and insisted upon showing him the sights. He gratefully consented and was carried to Daisy Smith's place on Thompson street, where he was shown every possible attention in the way of things to drink.

What occurred is mixed up in a hazy way in his memory, but he has a distinct remembrance of sprawling into the gutter on a dark street, blood pouring from a cut place on the side of his head. The blow was given with a heavy bottle and knocked him senseless and half-lifeless. He was given several other blows and left. When he examined his pockets he found that his money was gone.

He got to his boarding place as best he could, and yesterday made a visit to Captain Wright with the result already told. He is evidently an honest, hardworking farmer, and takes his trouble very much to heart. He insists upon Chief of Detectives Wright catching his assailants.

THE THIRD CITY COURT.

The Advocates of the Court Issue an Address.

An address has been issued "to the public" signed by a committee organized by a meeting of the lawyers who are in favor of the third city court.

The committee was not appointed by the Bar Association of Atlanta, and its utterances, therefore, are only the opinions of individuals, and in no way commit the bar association to the support of that measure.

The address goes on to recite that the establishment of another court in Atlanta would carry with it little additional expense, "if carried out in a judicious manner." It says that the growth and business activity of Atlanta is given as the reason for the increase of litigation, and other cities of like standing are pointed to as exceeding Atlanta in court facilities. It is important that litigation should be promptly disposed of. "The business of courts is to administer justice. They are created for that purpose, and the law, instead of discouraging a resort to the courts to enforce rights and redress wrongs, invites it." This is a striking sentence of the address. The article concludes:

"The talk that this court will benefit only lawyers is denunciated in the extreme end is an unfair argument intended to play upon the prejudices of the ignorant. But we apprehend such methods of argument will fall short of influencing the intelligent public. We regret that any of our brethren of the bar should even by implication, join in such an argument."

One of the leading lawyers, who was not invited to the meeting, speaking about the address, says:

"The talk that this court will benefit only lawyers is denunciated in the extreme end is an unfair argument intended to play upon the prejudices of the ignorant. But we apprehend such methods of argument will fall short of influencing the intelligent public. We regret that any of our brethren of the bar should even by implication, join in such an argument."

WEATHER SYNOPSIS AND FORECAST.

While the southeastern districts were yesterday favored by generally clear, warm and pleasant weather, other portions of the country were less fortunate. In the regions north of the Ohio river and east of the upper Mississippi the persistence and movement of a storm area was accompanied at many points by brisk to high westerly winds and more or less cloudiness. At Buffalo, N. Y., shortly after midnight the wind was blowing at the rate of forty-eight miles per hour and snow was falling, while at Chicago cloudy and threatening weather prevailed with a brisk northwest wind. An area of high barometric pressure covered the entire country west of the Mississippi river and freezing weather prevailed in the western lake regions, Missouri and upper Mississippi valleys. At St. Paul, Minn., and Rapid City, S. D., the mercury was registering 20 degrees below the freezing point. Generally fair weather with no decided change in temperature is indicated for Georgia for today. Probably colder tonight.

Weather Bulletin
From observations taken at 7 o'clock p. m.,
November 22, 1893.

STATIONS AND STATE OF WEATHER

Station	Temp.	Wind	Bar.	State
Atlanta, Ga.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Clear
Charlotte, N. C.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Foggy
Jacksonville, Fla.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
Knoxville, Tenn.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
Mobile, Ala.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
Montgomery, Ala.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
Memphis, Tenn.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
Savannah, Ga.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
Augustine, Tex.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
Wilmington, N. C.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
St. Paul, Minn.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
St. Louis, Mo.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
Chicago, Ill.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
Buffalo, N. Y.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
Cincinnati, O.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
Des Moines, Ia.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
Indianapolis, Ind.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
Keokuk, Ia.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
Lawrence, Mo.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
New York, N. Y.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
Portland, Me.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
Portland, Ore.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
San Francisco, Cal.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
Seattle, Wash.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
Spokane, Wash.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
Portland, Ore.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
San Francisco, Cal.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
Seattle, Wash.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy
Spokane, Wash.	50.02	0.00	0.04	Cloudy

Barnesville Takes First Prize.

Barnesville, Ga., November 22.—(Special.)—Jackson G. Smith, the maker of the celebrated Barnesville buggy, received a telegram today from the Augusta exposition stating that he had won the first premium on all vehicles and carriages. Mr. Smith was not surprised. On receiving the telegram he had been in the factory for hours, attending to the attention of customers. Mr. Smith received many congratulations from friends who wished to inquire what the bell ringing was about.

LAUNDRY PRICES REDUCED.

THE OLD "TROY" COMES TO THE FRONT WITH THE FOLLOWING ANNOUNCEMENT:

To Our Customers and Friends Everywhere: To conform to the Price List Adopted in the Large Cities of the Country, we have Reduced our prices for Laundry Work—Mailing

PLAIN SHIRTS, 10 cents.

AND COL LARS, 21-22.

This is the First Change Made in our Price List in Twelve years, and is done for the Purpose of Increasing Business. Our Laundry is the Largest in the South and we are Better than ever prepared to do Good Work.

REMEMBER THE NEW PRICES...

PLAIN SHIRTS, 10c.; COLLARS, 21-22.</

GRIDIRON GOSSIP.

Something About the Respective Conditions of Harvard and Yale.

CRIMSON AND BLUE TO MEET SATURDAY

There Will Be a Great Game at Piedmont Park on the 25th Also—Good Order Will Be Maintained.

OW that the time for the great games of football is fast approaching, even the Mitchell-Corbett fight, bordering still on the uncertainty of both location and occurrence, has faded for the present from the minds of the people and the columns of the newspapers, while instead, page after page is devoted to the latest news from the gridiron, and the pictures of the young giants who are to grapple in fierce struggle for the glory of the college.

It has been estimated that fully fifty thousand people will watch the game between Harvard and Yale at Hampden park, in Springfield, Mass., next Saturday, and that of that number, no less than thirty thousand will be dyed-in-the-wool partisans of one or the other team. The supporters of the blue will go prepared to howl with feral delight for the colors of their chosen and glorious over the supposed invincibility of the Yale team. The crimson of Harvard will not lack friends, and it will be when the last down is made that its enthusiastic admirers give up hope, providing Yale be in the lead.

The interest in the football games is not confined merely to the actual playing of the game; there is something more in the abundance of Harvard's always lacked coaches, and until the past three years the captain has had to watch his team more than he did himself. Now that is done from the side lines by coaches. Deland has been at work again this year and has developed no less than ten mysterious opening plays for the eleven representing Harvard. One of these openings in particular is said to be extending in effect, and the crimson people confidently expect to break forty or fifty yards through Yale's line with this movement.

Another of Deland's plays was used by the Technological team in New York. It is a very deceptive line wedge, which charges the tackle and sends the man with the ball around the end with only one interferer, the wedge breaking and the others blocking off. Harvard has been doing more secret practice than Yale and has a better interference by far this year. The team play of the crimson is something of an improvement over last year's work. The center is well taken care of by Lewis, while the backs are well up in their work. The passing by Beale is not so fast, but he is more accurate than Morris, of Yale. The ends are not bad. One of Harvard's chief faults is a lack of dash, the players evincing a drowsy feeling. A revolving wedge worked against Manahan, Harvard's tackle, would prove successful, as ing enthusiasm. Every man that is trying for a place on the team has friends in numbers—friends who will be disappointed if he is not on the field when the game is called.

"Will Messier or Beard play?" has been one of the burning questions.

"Will Ade play quarter back after all?"

"Is Armstrong overtrained?"

"How's Thorne's ankle?"

"And from Harvard's side: Will Fairchild give way to Beale at quarter back?"

"Is Gray to be succeeded by Wrightington at half back?"

All these are matters of deep interest to many hundreds, while thousands more have an interest only in the outcome of the game.

A subject of interest much discussed has been the condition of the two teams. It is undoubtedly true that Yale was never in a more crippled condition, nor with fewer star players. In the game with Pennsylvania, Murphy, the right tackle, did his lane shoulder no good, and even now is wearing a special harness, which is played like a collar over his shoulders. Frank Butterworth, full back, has not been doing any too much work and is lame to a certain degree. Thorne, right half back, has a bad ankle and has played very moderately even in practice. Armstrong, who is the best muscled man on the football grounds today, is said to be woefully overtrained, playing on his nerve alone after the first twenty minutes in the Pennsylvania game. His attempts at going around the end were dismal failures, as was a yard of gain won to credit. Messier, the crack outman, was to have played left tackle, but seems to have succeeded in getting himself well muscled bound, and Beale is the ticket up to date, though "Samson" Messier is still in training and may be reinstated at any moment. Another may not in the best form is Greenway, Yale's plucky little right end. He was very slow in the game with Philadelphia, but it is conceded by all football men that in good form he is well up to the best. About Frank Hin-key there is little to say. He is always right side up, and seldom gets hurt. This year he appears to be in danger of overtraining.

WATERS, Halfback.

BREWER, Fullback, Harvard.

In the meantime Harvard has not been idle. Edmunds, the left end, is in fine shape and ready to do the battle of his life. Manahan at left tackle is in prime shape. Action at left guard is rather clumsy and is just getting over the effects of a broken rib. Lewis, the mule to center rush is all right. Mackie is mule at right guard, and is getting in better trim the more he is worked. "Ma" Newell, who is an all around athlete, will stand at right tackle. Up to this year he has never been known to miss a tackle. He is bettering his form as the season advances, and is now ready to fall through Yale's line like a brick chimney. Blanchard is a new man at right end and may give way to Stevenson before the game Saturday. He is all right and his condition could not be bettered. Beale will probably play at quarter back, though Fairchild has been training for the place. Waters, the captain of the Harvard team, is at half back and is suffering from a wrenched knee. He has not been any too active in his preliminary work. Gray, who may assist Captain Waters at half back, has a bad knee and a twisted ankle to recover from. It is possible that Clarke may yet be put back on the line. Brown, the full back, is considered by many to be equal to Butterworth, that star. In the matter of substitutes Harvard has a brilliant lot to select from, while Yale is more or less handicapped. Captain Waters has plenty of good material in Gonterman, Hoag, Clarke, Dunlop, Fairchild, Connors, Beale, Wilson and Winslow.

Yale's playing this year has been disappointing to her coaches as well as to her admirers. Always, heretofore, the team work of the blue has been something to marvel at. In fact, for the past three years, until the fatal Pennsylvania game, there has not been a goal made against the aggregation of blue stockings, so strong has been their defensive work. On the other hand the splendid line backing of her full back and the fine work of the blue boys have made Yale the victors in her hard fought battles. The lack of a substantial interference is painfully noticeable about Yale's playing, while the team work on the defensive is not what it was last year. Messier will be the successful movements against Yale in the coming game with Harvard and Princeton, if the cue is taken from the way the Pennsylvania boys sent themselves plunging for twenty and thirty yards on the playing field. The same game revealed a depressing weakness in Yale's end running; if the weak attempts of Armsstrong and Thorne are to be considered, Butterworth proved to be all right and went hammering into Pennsylvania's line for good gain, though he wore himself completely out and was playing on his hand in the second half. The last straw developed when the ball was taken over the line by Pennsylvania and a goal kicked. This paralyzed the team of blues. Captain Hickey, who has earned for himself the memorable name of being the most brutal and the roughest football player in the game, began to look around for some excuse and claimed that some of his men had been hurt intentionally. But when the Yale coaches began to call for aid from ex-captains and old players, the situation was evident. Yale needed coaching.

At present there is a coach for every man on the Yale team. Corbin, captain and center of the '88 eleven, is on hand trying to wake up that mountain of flesh, young Stillman. Wurmberg, quarter back in the games of '88 and '89, is putting in some good coaching work. Rhodes, Ray, Tompkins, Hartwell, Bliss, McCutcheon and McCune are all on hand and are watching the team with close interest. The last of the hard practice games has been played, and today only the motions will be gone through. The last week the practice has been closer than ever, and not even the governor of Massachusetts could have gained entrance to the grounds. An interference, stronger and new in mass respect, has been arranged. The "Woodruff" a play in which the guard and tackle drop back for interference, may be used by Yale. This is a strong inducement for offense plays. Yale is very weak on opening plays and at many other points, but the blues have a very winning way of turning up at the right time with luck on their side and walking away with the game. The chances this year, however, are that Harvard is going to make a clean showing and break Yale's victorious record.

Harvard has always lacked coaches, and until the past three years the captain has had to watch his team more than he did himself. Now that is done from the side lines by coaches. Deland has been at work again this year and has developed no less than ten mysterious opening plays for the eleven representing Harvard. One of these openings in particular is said to be extending in effect, and the crimson people confidently expect to break forty or fifty yards through Yale's line with this movement.

Another of Deland's plays was used by the Technological team in New York. It is a very deceptive line wedge, which charges the tackle and sends the man with the ball around the end with only one interferer, the wedge breaking and the others blocking off.

Harvard has been doing more secret practice than Yale and has a better interference by far this year. The team play of the crimson is something of an improvement over last year's work. The center is well taken care of by Lewis, while the backs are well up in their work. The passing by Beale is not so fast, but he is more accurate than Morris, of Yale. The ends are not bad. One of Harvard's chief faults is a lack of dash, the players evincing a drowsy feeling. A revolving wedge worked against Manahan, Harvard's tackle, would prove successful, as he doesn't seem to be able to get down for the interference breaking.

BUTTERWORTH RECEIVING THE BALL.

A football game of equal as much interest to the lovers of football in the south will occur Saturday at Piedmont park. The contest will be between Athens and the Vanderbilt. That the Vanderbilt team is stronger than Athens is apparent, but the boys from the "Classic City intend to put up the hardest fought game of their football experience. The Athens team has been strengthened until it is fully 100 per cent stronger than ever before. The game between the two teams is forward to in part as a social event, since so many of the finest families are represented on the two teams, which will line up as follows:

Vanderbilt. Position. Athens.

Keller, Left End. Higley, Left Guard. Warren, Left Guard. Black, Center. Smith, Right Guard. Elliott, Right Guard. Smith, Quarter Back. Taylor, Left Half Back. McCutcheon, Right Half Back. Shackelford, Full Back. Brown, Full Back.

The average weight of the Vanderbilt team is 158 pounds; University, 156. The time of the halves will be thirty minutes.

A matter to be regretted at the last football game was the rushing of the crowd upon the gridiron. This was to be deplored especially since it caused, in part, a touch-down. The game Saturday will be free from such interruptions as there will be twenty-five patrons on the grounds. Red ribbons will be furnished only to those members of the press actively engaged reporting the game, and none besides these, except the substitutes, will be allowed upon the side lines.

This will enable the game to be seen from every part of the grand stand, and standing up will be unnecessary. The game will be called at 3 o'clock sharp. Carriages will be admitted free and a space will be reserved for them on the west side. The colors of Vanderbilt are gold and black and the university floats red and black.

Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured many afflicted with rheumatism, and we urge all who suffer from this disease to give this medicine a trial.

Georgia Road Congress.

The following speakers have been invited to address the Georgia road congress in August, on the 28th:

Hon. W. A. Huff, of Macon—"The Proper Utilization of Roads."

Professor O. H. Sheffield, of Athens—"A Plan for Improving the Public Highways."

Professor J. B. Hunkeler, of Athens—"Benefits of Improved Roads to Agricultural Interests."

Judge H. C. Jones, of Decatur—"Permanent Improvement of County Roads."

GRIDIRON RETURN.

After Their Brief Vacation They Go Back to the Tariff Grid.

Washington, November 22.—(Special.)—The Gridiron Club has returned to Washington and its members are again at the millstones grinding out Hawaiian and tariff matters. But the daily grid res: lighter upon them now. They have had three days of unalloyed pleasure and in the language of one of them they have stacked up against a crowd worthy of their mental stier.

The bridges were off. They were turned into a pasture of good things. They ate, drank and were merry, and they have returned singing the praises of southern wit, hospitality and good fellowship.

Asaevine did not best for the Gridiron Club and Asaevine's best is as elevated as her quarrying on the crest of the blue ridge range. Asaevine's best is the best. As accepting the invitation of Ed McKissick and the citizens of Asaevine to visit the "Land of the Skies," and use there according to the customs of the club, the Gridiron Club violated one of the rules of the club but they are glad of it now. That rule is to accept no invitations. The club is composed solely of Washington correspondents, and its membership is limited to forty. Its mission is to give its members a chance to enjoy their work with its guests. The club prides itself upon being the greatest dining club in the world. It gives the handsomest dinners that can be arranged and venerates the quins with brilliancy and wit of the highest order. Its fame is world wide.

Upon the invitation of Ed McKissick and Colonel W. A. Turk, of the Richmond and Danville railroad, the club visited Asheville. There were thirty members, twenty of whom were accompanied by their wives. Colonel Turk carried the party in royal style, having a special train of five coaches which were run under a very fast schedule. The trip over the mountains of the Western North Carolina railroad from Salisbury to Asheville was made in the day time. The first stop was at Hickory, where the club was met by the guests of Colonel Frank Longbrun at his pretty Hickory inn. Stops were made at several points in the mountain passes in order to afford a good view of the scenery.

In Asheville the club was met by the guests of Ed McKissick at the Battery Park. Thursday evening the club was banqueted. The table was arranged in the shape of a gridiron with seats for 150. It was in the ballroom of the hotel, which was decorated with innumerable gridirons, flags, flowers and club pictures. Over the stage of the ballroom hung a tremendous floral gridiron, and in the rear of the presiding officer's seat the club flag was draped.

Mr. Richmond Pearson, of Asheville, opened the banquet by extending a warm welcome to the club in an eloquent but brief speech. Then he yielded the chair to President Frank Hutton, of the club, who presided.

The presence of ladies at the banquet was a novel affair for the club, and caused its members to forget themselves in the flow of brilliancy and wit.

The dinner lasted four hours. It was delightfully served and during the time there was not one dull moment.

Mayor Patton, Dr. J. Gwyn and other Ashevilleans proved decidedly witty in their speeches, and demonstrated remarkable feats in repartee.

President Hutton, in a distinctive line of humor, roasted everybody and everything in a vein which drew the merriment to begin with the first course and ran as a tidal wave through the dinner. Ed Ray, Will Smith, Frank Smith, Frank Hoston and other bright fellows of the club, added to it. Bob Lanier recited a series of verses on the ambitions of prominent Ashevilleans, while the club's quartet contributed music that simply carried everything before it.

Saturday the entire party were driven to Vanderbilt's magnificent estates. It was a revelation. George Vanderbilt has purchased all purchasable land for miles east of Asheville. He owns nothing like one hundred thousand acres, eight thousand acres of which are immediately about the palace he is constructing. Nearly five hundred men are employed on the building and in beautifying the grounds. The payroll exceeds $10,000 a week and has made flush times for Asheville during the tightest times of the panic. The building alone, it is said, is to cost $2,000,000, while upon the work on the estates nearly $2,000,000 more is to be expended. There are great granite walls, beautiful drives, lakes, pretty cottages, herds of sheep and cattle all about. In his deer range alone are to be several hundred deer. Upon thousands of acres rare trees and flowers have been planted everywhere. A small army of men are at work upon this feature alone.

Vanderbilt has his own private railroad running from Asheville to his home which is six miles out. He has his own cars and engines. But of all the work the residence is the grandest conception. Perhaps no palace in Europe is handsomer than it will be. It covers several acres and is of marble and Indiana stone. But one can better imagine its grandeur, known that three million dollars is to be expended upon it, than it can be described in its uncompleted stage from a merely brief view of the walls and iron work. The work on the building commenced three years ago and it will yet take two years more to complete it.

The Gridiron Club was carried out to the Vanderbilt estates on a special train over the Vanderbilt road. They were driven back in coaches, and that evening were the guests of Mr. McKissick at a dining. After dinner a reception was given the club by the ladies of Asheville, and that was followed by a "cake walk," the feature of which was the contest between the committee of judges over the delivery of prizes. The judges were Bill Nye, Frank Hutton and Ed Hay. There was a majority and minority report, and the award was in favor of minority rule and the audience voted with him. The evening was ended with music by the Gridiron quartet and a dance.

Sunday the club visited Hot Springs where it was given a delightful lunch by Proprietor Doolittle, of the Mountain Park hotel. At 2 o'clock Sunday evening the return trip to Washington was begun. Colonel W. E. McKissick and Mr. Price of the Richmond and Danville, joined the party at Hot Springs and accompanied it back to Washington. The club was dined at Hickory last evening and reached here this morning.

Walk One Way, Look Another.

You often see persons doing it, and many a poor fellow has stamped his toes and cracked his heels falling over some object. You call them fools, but it may be their brains are benumbed by a torpid liver. People suffering with indigestion and dyspepsia get confused—the brain is inactive. You must wake up the liver by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator, the cure for this disorder and for Bilioussness and Sick Headache.

A Splendid Atlas.

It has been our pleasure to examine the new popular atlas, published by Mast, Crowell & Kirkpatrick, of Springfield, O., and which, in our opinion, will supply a long felt want.

It is as complete as any atlas on the market selling at much higher prices. It contains a postal and shipping guide; gives and locates all freight stations, banking towns, express, telegraph and money order offices; gives the population of each town, county, state, etc., besides maps of each state and territory, all of which have been revised up to date; besides it contains a brief history of each state and territory, as well as each country on the globe. It gives a biographical sketch of many eminent men, from Washington down to the present day, with a great deal more valuable information than could be referred to here. It should be in every home and office.

The enterprising publishers keep up with the times and have certainly shown good taste by putting the price of the new atlas down within the reach of all. There is no other atlas on the market, to our knowledge, that will compare with its selling at the same low price.

Save the frames and have them repaired at Hawkes', 12 Whitehall street. N. lenses set in old frames; also polished and made as good as new.

USE POND'S EXTRACT

FOR PILES, BURNS, SORE EYES, SORES, Headache AND ALL PAIN.

Have the early frosts or too late a lingering by the garden gate aroused that RHEUMATISM so peacefully slumbering the summer long? Well, if it's very bad you must change your diet and perhaps take some distasteful drug—the doctor will tell you what—but first rub thoroughly the part afflicted with POND'S EXTRACT, then wrap it warmly with flannel, and the rheumatism may wholly disappear. It will certainly be much relieved. Now that you have the POND'S EXTRACT try it for any of the many things its buff wrapper mentions. It's a wonderful curative. But don't accept substitutes. POND'S EXTRACT CO., 76 Fifth Ave., N. Y.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrup, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria. "Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children." Dr. G. C. Osmond, Lowell, Mass.

Castoria. "Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. Archer, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their office practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it." UNITED HOSPITAL AND DISPENSARY, Boston, Mass.

Dr. J. F. Kitchener, Conway, Ark.

Allen C. Smith, Pres., Boston, Mass.

The Centaur Company, 71 Murray Street, New York City.

"TO SAVE TIME IS TO LENGTHEN LIFE DO YOU VALUE LIFE?" THEN USE

SAPOLIO

LAUNDRY PRICES REDUCED ON AND AFTER DEC. 1, 1893,

The Excelsior Steam Laundry, (Atlanta's Leading Laundry)

Will Reduce their Prices, in order to conform to other large cities, and Atlanta, as follows:

Plain Shirts 10 cts. COLLAR S 2 1/2 cts.

WE CLEAN GENTS' SUITS FOR $1.50 A SUIT Remember the place, and give us your laundry.

THE EXCELSIOR STEAM LAUNDRY, 53 Decatur Street. Telephone 42. W. E. HANYE, Manager.

BRACE UP!

Look Cheerful! Stop Croaking!

The Hard Times Are Gone!

Get a REMINGTON STANDARD TYPEWRITER and your business will thrive as never before.

THE REMINGTON

Began well, grew constantly better and still excels as the standard writing machine of the world. Always has been, is now, and ever will be, the most perfect, the most Durable, and the most Satisfactory Typewriter in the market.

Experiments. No matter what Machine you try, you will find a REMINGTON. Come and see us.

CRENSHAW,

Alabama, South Carolina and Florida.) Hall House, ATLANTA, GA.

BARGAINS

FOR THE LITTLE ONES,

Bargains for the Young and Old, Bargains for Everybody.

$20,000 worth of Trunks, Valises, Satchels, Club Bags, Purse, Pocketbooks and Fancy Goods to go at half price.

TO BE SLAUGHTERED! TO BE BUTCHERED!

From November 6th on we throw at your feet:

3,000 Bridal Trunks at $9; old price, $15. 400 flat-top Dress Trunks at $5; old price, $9.50. 350 36-inch Zinc Trunks at $3; old price, $5.00.

5,000 Club Bags at $1; old price, $1.75. 5,000 extra Valises at $2; old price, $4. 3,000 Ladies' Hand Bags at 25c; old price, 75c.

150 Sterling Silver Pocket Books at 74c; old price, $2. 3,000 Purse, of all description, at 5c, 10c and 15c, worth three times the money.

This opportunity you will never get again. Now is your chance for Bridal and Christmas presents. Don't miss it.

LIEBERMAN & KAUFMANN, 92 WHITEHALL, ATLANTA TRUNK FACTORY.

The Original and Genuine (WORCESTERSHIRE) LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE

Imparts the most delicious taste and zest to SOUPS, GRAVIES, FISH, HOT & COLD MEATS, GAME, WELSH RAREBITS, &c.

Beware of Imitations; see that you get Lea & Perrins' Sauce.

Signature on every bottle of the original and genuine JOHN DUNCAN'S SONS, NEW YORK.

SATZKY, The Tailor, 9 Alabama Street, Between Whitehall and Broad. Stylish Goods Always on Hand.

KELLAM & MOORE, Scientific Opticians, 54 Marietta street, opposite postoffice, set up and operated the first lens-grinding machinery ever brought into this section, and have been the first to introduce every optical improvement. Their retail saleroom is at 54 Marietta street, opposite postoffice.

The Direct World's Fair Line. MONON ROUTE

Are you going to the world's fair or any point in the northwest, via Chicago? If so ask your ticket agent for tickets via Louisville, or via Cincinnati, and Indianapolis; Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton and Monon. Eugene was the only line with Pullman vestibule trains to Chicago via Louisville and Cincinnati, with magnificent parlor, dining and sleeping cars.

W. H. M'DOELL, General Manager.

AUCTION At T. A. Shelton's new stables, corner Mitchell and Madison, formerly Thompson st. Just received several carloads of Kentucky and Tennessee horses, to be sold at auction or private sale. Also one load well-broken Texas horses and mules just arrived.

T. A. SHELTON.

HYDE & HENRY Designers, Wood Engravers, Half Tones and Photo Engraving.

712 North Broad street, Room No. 1, Atlanta, Ga.

NOTICE To Voters of 7th Ward

You are hereby notified that the registration books for the seventh ward will be opened November 22d, 1893, at the city tax collector's office at Chamber of Commerce building, and at office of clerk and marshal of West End, and will remain open from 8 a. m. till 5 o'clock p. m. each day until November 30th, except on the last six days prior to November 30th they shall remain open until 9 o'clock p. m. All voters desiring to qualify themselves to vote for members of the general council of the city of Atlanta at the next annual election on December 6th next must take the oath that they have paid all taxes as required by law.

PARK WOODWARD, Clerk of Council.

Notice. We have handled what was claimed to be a superior brand of sausage, but are now handling C. A. Kauschberger's "All-Pork Smoked Sausage." We have tried other brands made here to our dissatisfaction and find this sausage superior to any we have used, or can procure. Buy no sausage for "All-Pork" unless marked "C. A. K." We are his with good and honest entire production, which is a special brand known up for our trade. Every box guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction; no other brand made here and no other brand handled by us. Send orders direct to us. J. W. Phillips Co., act 25 1m BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR FOR ALL DISEASES AND IRREGULARITIES OF THE WOMAN. BOOK "TO WOMAN" MAILED FREE. BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., ATLANTA, GA. SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

31 and 93 Whitehall Street.

HENRY R. POWERS,
RECEIVER

ATLANTA ELEVATOR CO.,
OFFICE AND WORKS,
Means Street W. and A. R.
ATLANTA, GA.,

PETER LYNCH | Brookwood Floral Co.

5 Whitehall and 7 Mitchell Sts.
And Branch Store 201 Peters Street.

now receiving his summer supply of Jelly umbrellas, Miliville, Woodbury, Masons, Met-tall and Mason's Improved and Glassboro fruit jars, pints, quarts and half-gallons, all the best quality of glass. Also fresh turnip seed of all kinds, fresh and genuine and true to name, and other large varieties of goods too numerous to mention here. Peter Lynch has at his Whitehall street store a large stock of the purest and best of wines, liquors.

era, ales and porters, tobacco, cigars and nuff, all of which will be sold at reasonable prices. Orders promptly filed.
TERMS CASH.